BRITISH ADVANCE 1,000 YARDS ON FRONT A MILE LANG IN SOMME REGION

General Haig Evidently Intends to Force the Battle Without Any Cessation.

CLOSING IN ON COMBLES

Rumanians and Russians Have Ceased Retreat, and Definitely Drawn Battle Lines.

IN THE DOBRUDJA REGION

Germans Inflict Heavy Casualties on Russians in Galicia.

Along one mile front the British have advanced another thousand yards and have captured a German fortified work which had previously resisted all their efforts. This operation is characterized by General Haig, the British commander, as important and highly successful. It is indicative of the intention o fthe British commander to force the battle along the Somme front without cessation, the new advance being a continuation of the powerful movement undertaken by the British and French on Friday last.

Vigorous Offensive Continues

Both north and south of the Somme river, in France, the British and French troops at various points are keeping up their vigorous offensive against the Germans and have achieved further successes and put down strong German counter attacks.

To the south of Combles the French have taken additional trenches, making stronger their investment of the little town, which now is almost completely surrounded.

Having evacuated the village of Deniecourt, south of the river, the Germans have been driven back southward about two-thirds of a mile toward Ablain court. South of Barleux a German trench to the west of Horgny has been captured.

Fierce artillery fighting is still in progress on the sectors of the Peronne-Bapaume road, recently captured by the French. During Sunday and Monday more than 1,800 Germans were taken prisoner by the French in the Deniecourt sector.

Artillery Activity in Champagne

There is considerable artillery activity in the Champagne region. On the Verdun front the French have captured a trench on the southern slope of the famous Dead Man Hill.

To stem the tide of the advance of the army of the Central Powers in the Dobrudja region of Rumania, the Rumanians and Russians have ceased their retreat and definitely drawn their battle line. This extends along the front of Rachova Txopadin-Tusla—running from the Black Sea to the Danube just south of the ancient double ramparts known as Trojan's Wall, which begin at Constansa on the sea and run westward to the river Both Sofia and Berlin report fresh advances in this region, while in Transylvania the Rumanians are reported to be continuing the progress against the Teutonic Allies.

Petrograd is silent where the new large offensive started by the Russians from the Pripet march region in Russia, down into the Carpathians, but Berlin says the Germans turned to the attack along the Naralyvka river in Galicia, regained a greater portion of the territory lost to the Russians Saturday, inflicted heavy casualties on the Russians and took 3,500 prisoners.

In the Carpathians along the Glota-Liba river, between Sereth and the Stripa rivers and to the west of Lutsk, Russian attacks were repulsed with heavy losses.

Town of Florina Captured.

In Macedonia the French troops have captured the town of Florina, Greece, from the Bulgarians, who are reported by Paris to be retiring in disorder northwest in the direction of Monastir. In the Lake Ostrovo region and near Cerna the Serbs have gained additional ground. On the Doiran front, where the British are engaged, only artillery engagements have taken place.

Several successes of the Turks are related in a Constantinople official communication. British cavalry detachments endeavoring to advance east from the Suez canal and an attempt by the British to attack in the Felahie sector of Mesopotamia, were repulsed by the Turks, while on the Caucasus front on the right and left wings, Turkish forces are declared to have driven back the Russians.

In East Africa.

All of Germany's ports in East Africa now are in the hands of the British, Lindi and Milindani having been evacuated. In addition the Germans have been driven from the Uguguru hills and a junction has been effected by the British troops near Kisaki.

The Italians are still holding their newly acquired positions on Carso front, notwithstanding vigorous attacks by the Austrians, which were preceded by heavy bombardments.

MACEDONIAN TOWN TAKEN BY ASSAULT

French Troops Capture Florina and the Bulgarians Retire in Disorder.

ATTACK WAS A SURPRISE

According to the Allies, the Achievement Jeopardizes the Whole Bulgarian Front—Bold and Dangerous Feat For Them.

Paris, via London, Sept. 18.—Florina, an important town in northwestern Macedonia, was carried by assault by French troops today, according to an official statement issued here tonight. The Bulgarians are retiring in disorder in the direction of Monastir, the statement adds. Serbian troops also have gained successes in the region of Lake Ostrovo.

London, Sept. 18.—Dispatches reaching London describe the operations which resulted in the capture by the Entente Allied forces of Florina, Macedonia.

According to Reuters Saloniki correspondent, the Bulgarians, in extending their line so far south as the region of Lake Ostrovo with limited forces, played a bold but dangerous game. Success would have compromised the whole Entented Allies' line but lack of success was bound to prove costly by jeopardizing the whole Bulgarian front.

The first wavering among the Bulgarians, says the dispatch, was caused by unexpected pressure by the French and Russians on ther extreme flank and the Serbians, profiting by this indecision, attacked energetically on the 12th and 13th. At first the Serbian infantry made little impression on the well entrenched Bulgarians, but after a strong bombardment with high explosives, the Serbians carried line after line of trenches, compelling the Bulgarians to abandon the whole of their advanced position along the Malkanidze range, with 32 guns, including two heavy guns.

The whole Bulgarian right wing fell back and the Entente Allies obtained command of the ranges dominating the Florina plain.

An Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company describes the later phases of the concentration for the attack on Florina, which was carried out with the greatest secrecy. The contingents were divided into three parties in a converging movement to connect at Florina. The Russians started from Verria, southwest of Saloniki, and proceeded by forced marches. A French column was directed against the same objective, while the Serbians in the region of Horovitz were ordered to repel the Bulgarians from the heights in the vicinity of Ekshisu and Petroskou. The Bulgarians were decimated and fled, leaving everything behind.

U. S. WAR DEPARTMENT LOSES BUREAU CHIEF

Major General Albert L. Mills Dies of Pneumonia.

Secretary Baker Declares His Devotion to His Work Took Strength With Which He Might Have Combatted Attack.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Major General Albert L. Mills, chief of the bureau of militia affairs, holder of the army medal of honor for bravery under fire, builder of the new West Point and former president of the Army War College, died here today after 15 hours' illness from pneumonia.

Apparently he was in the best of health when he left his desk at the War Department late Saturday afternoon. No funeral arrangements had been made tonight.

In a statement issued today expressing the sentiment of the War Department, Secretary Baker declared General Mills' devotion to his work took strength with which he might otherwise have been able to resist the sudden illness.

General Mills was a native of New York and was apointed to the Military Academy from that state in 1874. He served with distinction through the Spanish war and the Philippine insurrection, and in 1904 was promoted by President Roosevelt from the rank of captain to brigadier general. For several years he served as commander of the Department of the Gulf, with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga.

Only last month he was commissioned a major general. He worked out the mobilization plans for the state troops which operated successfully during the Mexican border situation. He

TRACTORS USED IN WAR MADE IN U. S.

They Hurdle German Trenches, Walk Through Forests and Crawl Over Craters.

AS ARMORED MOTOR CARS

Designed and Made at Peoria, Ill., Before the War Started—Thousands in Use on American Farms, Without Armament.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The British tanks, the armored motor cars, used in recent assaults on German trenches in Northern France so successfully as to attract world-wide attention, were built for the most part in Peoria, Ill., as caterpillar tractors designed many years before the war began to meet some of the difficult problems of modern farming. Except for the armor, their machine guns and their crews, thousands like them, are in use today in the United States, in plowing, digging ditches and other labors less heroic than war.

M. M. Baker, vice-president of the Holt Manufacturing Company, explained here today that it was machines made by his company at its Peoria plant that had hurdled German trenches, walked through forests and crawled over shell craters in the face of intense rifle and machine gun fire.

"It is true," said Mr. Baker, "that these tractors can go ahead over almost anything. They can straddle a trench go through a swamp, roll over logs or climb through shell craters like a car of a juggernaut. It looks uncanny to see them crawl along the ground, just like a huge caterpillar. In a thick forest, if they encounter trees, they not only brush them out of their way, they could easily be used to uproot them and clear their own paths.

The Tractors Described

Mr. Baker said the tractors sent to England weigh about 18,000 pounds each, develop 120 horse power and are built of steel. The caterpillar feature, he explained, is of the utmost importance. Speaking broadly, the tractor crawls on two belts, with corrugated surfaces, on either nice of the body. The corrugated surface is on the ground. On the inside of the belts, on each side of the body, are two lines of steel rails making four lines in all. These rails are in short sections, jointed, and operate over a cogged mechanism that actually lays them down with their belt attachment as the tractor moves ahead and picks them up again so that the car runs on its own self-made track continuous. The short joints in the rails make it easy to turn to the right or left. The body is supported with five wheels, something like small railroad tracks. These wheels never touch the ground, but run upon the steel rails. In the ordinary tractor about seven feet of belt and rails is on the ground at one time.

Mr. Baker said that the machines would bridge any trench that was not wider than the length of the track it laid on the ground at one time. The "bow" might hit the far side of the trench far below the top, and the "stern" would undoubtedly sink a little, but the tenacity of the tractor, he declared, would enable it to go ahead and climb out.

Although Mr. Baker would not discuss the matter, it was understood the United States War Department is experimenting with armored tractors somewhat like those now in use on the British battle line.

Frederick Palmer, Associated Press correspondent with the army of the entente allies on the western front, describing the first test of the new armored cars by the British, writes as follows of the consternation among the enemy upon the first use of the new engine of death:

The demoralization of their infantry yesterday by the use of the new British

WORKING UP CASE OF BLACKMAILERS

Department of Justice Agents Are Busy Gathering Further Evidence Against Gang.

A "RING LEADER" CAUGHT

Federal Officers Have Been Working on Cases for Several Months and Have Trailed Several of the Alleged Crooks.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—While Federal authorities here prepared tonight to arraign for a preliminary hearing tomorrow seven members of an alleged blackmail gang who used the Mann Act as their chief weapon, detectives, fortified with information obtained from two alleged members of the gang who confessed, made arrests in other cities and spread a dragnet for H. C. Woodward, sought as director-in-chief of the syndicate.

Hinton G. Clabaugh, of the United States Department of Justice, declared tonight he had secured sufficient evidence to convict the gang without exposing the names of some of their wealthy victims. It was understood that none of the names of the victims would be disclosed at the preliminary hearing before a United States commissioner tomorrow. These victims, principally wealthy men whose flirtations with pretty women led them into traps from which they escaped only on payment of large sums, will be shielded from publicity except as a last resort it is said.

Clabaugh also revealed today the source of the information that led to the raid. He said that "Dick" Barrett and Edward J. Thompson, two members of the syndicate, had confessed. They probably will be given immunity.

The seven under arrest here, four men and three women, may seek thei release on bond, it was said tonight by Charles E. Erbstein, their counsel. The bonds total approximately $100,000.

The men refused to talk today, but the women scouted the charges.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—Agents of the Department of Justice were busy here today gathering further evidence against the members of the alleged blackmailing band arrested in Chicago and tonight served a warrant on William Butler, alias Butts, who Federal authorities say is one of the ring leaders of the syndicate.

Butler was arrested here last January on a charge of conspiracy and impersonating a United States marshal in attempting to extort money from Mrs. Susan G. S. Winpenny, in order to protect her son from prosecution for a supposed escapade in Atlanta City. He was held in heavy bail and was to have been brought to trial at the present term of the Federal district court. Mrs. Winpenny died several weeks ago and in consequence the case is held in abeyance.

On the same day Butler was arrested, Mrs. G. K. Klipper, according to Frank L. Garbarino, agent of the Department of Justice, in this city, went to New York with a man who turned out later to be Frank Crocker, alias Don Collins.

She fell a victim of the alleged blackmailers, according to Garbarino, and was mulcted out of a large sum of money by Frank Irwin, whose home is said to be in Worcester, Mass., and another man who is still a fugitive. They represented themselves as government officers, Garbarino said. Crocker

700,000 WORKERS PLANNING STRIKE

Walk-Out is to be Called Thursday if Negotiations Fail, Say Labor Leaders.

SYMPATHIZE WITH CARMEN

Shonts Says New York Street Railways Will Refuse to Further Confer With the Men—Mitchel Calls Meeting For Today.

New York, Sept. 18.—The United Hebrew Trades representing a membership of 200,000 organized workers, tonight voted to go on a sympathetic strike as an aid to the striking carmen, if they are called upon to do so by the central federated union.

The vote was taken at a meeting of delegates said to represent every craft in the United Trades, including garment industries in which many women are employed. Arrangements were made to notify the membership of 200,000 to be ready to answer a strike call at any time.

Five hundred motormen and conductors employed by the New York and Queens county railway company went on strike at midnight. The strikers assert that agreements entered into between the company and the men were broken when the railway officials sent 65 motormen to Manhattan to do duty on the surface cars of the New York Railways Company. Brooklyn and Richmond (Staten Island) now are the only boroughs of the city not affected by the strike.

New York, Sept. 18.—Failure of negotiations being conducted by Mayor Mitchel to provide a basis of settlement of the traction controversy in this city will result in a call Thursday for a sympathetic strike of approximately 700,000 workers, union leaders declared after a conference late today between representatives of several crafts.

The call will be issued, it was stated, to all unions affiliated with the Central Federated Union, the Central Labor Union of Brooklyn, and the Federated Union of the Bronx, West Chester and Yonkers. Some of the unions already have authorized a strike, union leaders said, and referendums are in progress in others.

Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, and the New York Railways Company, late today issued a statement in which he said the companies would refuse to confer further with the strikers. This announcement was made after Mr. Shonts had been informed that Mayor Mitchel had agreed to act with Oscar S. Straus, chairman of the public service commission, in an attempt to bring the strikers and companies together.

Mayor Mitchel announced tonight that he had asked the citizens' committee of the chamber of commerce and representatives of the merchants' association to meet with him tomorrow, to discuss the situation. During the day he conferred with labor leaders, but no practical plan was evolved to settle the difficulties.

Traffic on the subway and elevated lines continued normal today and there was a noticeable improvement in surface car conditions. Some violence was reported and several arrests were made. Missiles were thrown at elevated trains from the roofs of houses, but no one was seriously injured, according to police reports.

VERY RAPID ADVANCE IN COTTON MARKET YESTERDAY

New York, Sept. 18.—There was a very rapid advance in the cotton market today, with December contracts at 15.89, or $1.90 a bale above yesterday's closing figures. Comparatively small offerings from Southern sources seemed to discourage recent local sellers and covering was very active on the advance, which also reflected trade buying an da bullish private crop report.

BANDITS RODE INTO THE STATE PALACE

Villa Cavalrymen Engage Carranza Infantry on Second Floor in Chihuahua City.

SAYS REPORT TO EL PASO

Rode Horses Into Building and Up Stone Steps Following Retreating Troops. Residents Arrested for Sniping.

Chihuahua City, Mex., Sept. 18. — Forces of government soldiers have been detailed to bring order out of the chaos created by Villa's Hildago day attack upon the state capital. Several hundred bodies of men and animals have been removed from the streets and buried outside the city. Buildings which suffered from gunfire are being dynamited. Scores of workmen are engaged in restoring the city's telegraph and telephonic communication.

Eighty prisoners taken in the engagement have been executed. These include M. Choas, formerly Villa's chief of staff, and Mariano Tames, who as a colonel in Juarez, recently attempted unsuccessfully to induce the garrison there to revolt.

The federal and municipal palaces suffered most heavily in the engagement, huge trees in the plaza Hildago being literally stripped of their limbs, by the stdeay stream of lead poured through them. The bandits rode their horses inside the palaces and tore from their hangings costly tapestries, paintings and mirrors. Furniture was brok-

QUESTION IS HOW WILL THE BULL MOOSE VOTE

Statewide Primary to be Held in New York State Today.

Vote Cast for Whitman and Seabury Will Be Watched Because of Its Bearing on Presidential Election.

New York, Sept. 18.—Candidates for United States senator and a complete state ticket will be nominated at the state-wide primary tomorrow. Chief interest in the election apparently centers tonight in whether the former leaders of the Progressive party will be able to swing the votes of a majority of the rank and file to Governor Charles S. Whitman, leading Republican candidate for governor. One wing of the party favors the election of Judge Samuel Seabury, whose candidacy for governor on the Democratic ticket is unopposed.

National as well as state leaders of both parties are deeply interested in the outcome of the Progressive primary contest, for they believe it may have an important bearing upon the outcome of the presidential campaign in New York. It is conceded by both sides that a majority of those who vote for Governor Whitman in the primaries will support Charles E. Hughes for president, while most of those who support Judge Seabury will vote for President Wilson.

Next to the fight for Progressive support, the most important contest to be settled tomorrow is that between Robert Bacon, former ambassador to France, and William M. Calder, a former congressman, for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate. Mr. Bacon did not enter the lists

PRESIDENT VISITS BOYHOOD HOME IN CITY OF COLUMBIA

Sees Body of Only Sister Laid Beside Those of His Parents and Other Relatives.

RETURNS TO SHADOW LAWN

Visits House Where He Once Lived and Room in Seminary Used by His Father.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 18.—President Wilson, who came here today for the funeral of his only sister, Mrs. Anne E. Howe, left at 6:15 o'clock for the summer White House at Long Branch, N. J. He will arrive at West End, N. J., shortly after 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and go by automobile to Shadow Lawn.

After participating in the funeral of Mrs. Howe, the President this afternoon took an automobile ride around Columbia, visiting relatives and the place where he spent some of his boyhood days. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson and Dr. C. T. Grayson, the White House physician.

When the President's special train pulled out late this afternoon several thousand people thronged the railroad station and stood silently with bared heads. The President bowed quietly.

On his ride the President visited Mrs. James Woodrow, an aunt, who welcomed him as "Tommy" and remarked to Mrs. Wilson:

"Since he took to writing books he calls himself Woodrow."

Mr. Wilson then visited the Columbia Theological Seminary where his father once taught, and was shown the chair and room used by the elder Mr. Wilson. He was told of a plan to name a library planned by the seminary after his father. Afterwards he and Mrs. Wilson and Dr. Grayson walked to the house planned and built by his parents and in which he lived for several years.

There he talked with four small boys who now live in the house. Dr. Grayson asked one of them if he expected to be president. The boy said he did not know.

"I would not wish anything like that on you," said the President.

Plans Quiet Rest.

Mr. Wilson plans to spend tomorrow afternoon and night quietly at Long Branch and on Wednesday will resume active direction of his campaign plans interrupted by the illness and death of Mrs. Howe.

President Wilson spent today quietly and attended simple funeral services at the church and then walked with relatives to the adjoining grave yard and stood with bowed head and tear-stained face during the last simple rites.

The people of Columbia gathered along the streets and outside the church to see the President, but they respected his grief and made no demonstrations. During the ride south this morning the platform of every station was crowded, but there was no cheering.

At several stops flowers were put aboard the train, by school children.

The special train bearing the body and members of the funeral party arrived here shortly before noon. Automobiles took the President and members of the family directly to the First Presbyterian church. The station was surrounded by several thousand people. At the President's personal request, the city and state officials gave no official recognition to his visit.

The Funeral Service

In the immediate party were Joseph R. Wilson, a brother of Mrs. Howe; John A. Wilson, a cousin; Mrs. Anne Cothran, a daughter; George Howe and Wilson Howe, sons; Miss Margaret Wilson, the President's daughter, and Dr. C. T. Grayson, the White House physician.

The President and the other members of the immediate family were shown to seats in front of the church and farther back sat many friends who knew Mrs. Howe when her husband was Columbia's leading physician. The Presbyterian funeral services were recited by the Rev. A. W. Blackwood, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. Thornton Whaling, president of Columbia Seminary.

The last services took place inside an enclosure in the shaded grave yard where are buried Mrs. Howe's husband, the father and mother of the President and several other relatives. A modest shaft marks the plot.

All flags in Columbia were at half mast during the ceremony and the church bell was tolled slowly.

All during the services the grave yard enclosed in a brick fence was surrounded by crowds.

At Parents' Graves.

After the services Mr. Wilson remained for a few moments to look at the graves of his father and mother.

Merchants of Columbia offered to close their business houses and drape their buildings in crepe, but a request was made that they omit this mark of respect.

TRAIN STOPS IN RALEIGH UNION STATION 10 MINUTES

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 19.—President Wilson's train stopped in Raleigh 10 minutes this morning, reaching here at 1:30 o'clock, and coming into the station to allow Mr. George Howe and Mrs. Cothran, of Chapel Hill, to get off to make connection for Chapel Hill.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 18.—Charles R. Williams, of Homestead, Fla., one of four men shot early Sunday in an encoutner between a sheriff's posse and four bandits sought for robbing the State Bank of Homestead of $6,000, died last night of his wounds, according to news received here tonight.

BOSTON BACK IN FIRST PLACE WHILE BROOKLYN LOSES GROUND

Chicago, Sept. 18. — Brooklyn lost ground today in the National League race by dropping one half of a double header to Cincinnati, while its chief rivals, Boston and Philadelphia, were beating St. Louis and Chicago, respectively. The result cut down Brooklyn's lead over Philadelphia to one game and over Boston to two and one-half games. The standings:

Club	W	L	Pct.
Brooklyn	82	55	.598.54
Philadelphia	80	55	.592.59
Boston	77	55	.583.33

Boston went back into first place in the American League race, winning from Chicago, while Detroit lost to Philadelphia. Because the Champions have played fewer games, they have a slight margin in percentage over Detroit, but the difference between the teams cannot be reckoned in terms of games. Chicago is in third place, game and a half behind the leaders. The standings:

Club	W	L	Pct.
Boston	81	59	.578.57
Detroit	83	61	.576.32
Chicago	81	62	.566.43

PLANNING STATE-WIDE HIGH SCHOOL DECLAIMERS CONTEST

To be Held at Wake Forest Next April by Literary Societies.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Wake Forest, N. C., Sept. 18.—The Euzelian and Philomathesian literary societies in co-operation with the college are now preparing for a State-wide High School Declaimers' Contest to be held at Wake Forest next April, to which each accredited high school in the State is to send a representative to compete for a first prize, consisting of a scholarship in the college and a handsome gold medal bearing the emblems of both societies, and a second prize, in the form of a gold pin, which will also bear the emblems of the two societies.

This contest is expected to be the means of getting a number of the best speakers from the various high schools of the State to enter college here, and thus to come into one of the literary societies. For a number of years the University of North Carolina, Trinity, Elon, Catawba and Lenoir have been holding similar contests and in this manner securing the good speakers from the graduating classes of the high schools.

The committee of arrangements, composed of Prof. J. H. Highsmith, chairman; A. C. Reid, secretary; P. S. Daniel, secretary; W. B. Gladney, Spurgeon Spurling, E. D. Banks and P. D. Croom, is now corresponding with the superintendents of the different high schools, urging them to send representatives to the contest.

DECISION IN DISBARMENT PROCEEDING IS RESERVED

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 18.—The first disbarment proceedings in the history of Cumberland county was started in Superior court here this afternoon against James H. Johnston, of Hope Mills, a member of the Cumberland bar. The case, which is a civil action to deprive Johnson of his license, is based on two convictions for selling illegal quantities of wine, and was presented to the court on agreed facts, after argument by Solicitor S. B. MacLean for the State and Col. W. C. Broadfoot and A. S. Hall for Mr. Johnson. Judge Winston reserved his decision, which will be announced later.

BETTER BODIES NEEDED

Country's Service Crippled on Account of Men's Weak Bodies.

That better bodies is one of the country's greatest needs is evident from the large per cent of rejections made recently in the American army on account of physical unfitnes sor defects. An exchange says that at least 30 per cent of all who present themselves for enlistment are found physically unfit, some of the defects being narrow chests, flat feet, poor teeth, heart trouble, weak eyes, defective kidneys, under weight, and stomachs that are in no condition to master army fare.

"From this, it seems," says the State Board of Health, "that the old injunction 'to crucify the flesh' has been taken too literally in America, with the result that much of our manhood when tested is found unfit for the country's service. Too little attention has evidently been given the body and the body needs. In fact, the body has not had due consideration while the appetites and other pleasures have been indulged at the expense of the body's welfare. The candle of life has been allowed to burn at both ends with wrecked bodies and inefficient service for thei rcountry as a result."

A. & M. COLLEGE NOTES

Special Train From Wilmington?—Military Instructor Arrives.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 18.—The athletic association and the college authorities view with pleasure the activities of the Wilmington alumni in an effort to secure a special train for the Thanksgiving game with Washington and Lee, which will be played on Riddick Field.

The Agricultural Club held its first weekly meeting this past week. W. K. Scott, of the senior class, is president, and the club has a membership of more than 200 students. Arrangements were made for the third annual corn show of the club, and a list of prizes are offered. Last year about thirty students entered exhibits, and the honors were taken by S. L. Homewood, of Burlington. Intercollegiate debates will be continued this year with other agricultural colleges. Last year, the local debaters won all contests with Alabama Polytechnic Institute and the University of Georgia.

Lieut. Hugh H. Broadhurst, U. S. A., has arrived to assume duties as instructor in military science and tactics and as commandant of cadets. He came direct from El Paso, Texas, where he has been with the eighth cavalry since last September.

Lieutenant Broadhurst is a native of Goldsboro, and graduated from West Point in 1905. Since graduation, he has seen service in Vermont, the Philippines and Cuba.

While on the Mexican border, Lieutenant Broadhurst stayed on the Mexican side practically the entire time. At one time his command was sent 200 miles into the interior of Mexico in seare hof bandits. He is of the opinion that for the scarcity of water and the prevalence of sand storms, there is much to be enjoyed on the border.

Everyone Should Drink Glass Of Water To Clean Kidneys

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with cold water and kidneco, which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any druggist about one dozen 5 grain kidneco tablets, take one tablet before each meal and at bedtime with a glass of water for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous remedy is made from perfectly harmless ingredients and acts quickly, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Kidneco is inexpensive, cannot injure, make no mistake, insist on kidneco, which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

FAYETTEVILLE HOLDS MASS MEETING FOR ARMOR PLANT

Advisory Committee Named—Citizens Enthusiastic Over Prospects

(Special Star Telegram).

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 18.—An enthusiastic mass meeting of representative business men of Fayetteville was held tonight to give added momentum to the armor plant movement. The chairman called on Hon. N. A. Sinclair to make a report for the committee which went to Washington. He did so and stated Fayetteville's prospects looked to him better than those of any other town. A. A. McKeithan, F. T. Hale and T. H. Sutton, of the committee, also reported that Fayetteville's chances are good.

Formal discussion of further plans for pushing the movement was then had. A motion to appoint an advisory committee of ten was carried and this committee will work with the armor plant committee to further push the claims of this city.

Confident in the strength of their cause by reason of natural advantages and strategic position, the people of Fayetteville are going forward to secure this big plant not only for the good of their own town but for the good of all North Carolina and the country east of the Mississippi river.

Mr. Hallet Ward, of Washington, N. C. who makes a Democratic speech here tomorrow night, spoke on the plant movement, saying Fayetteville should have it and could get it with the proper efforts.

Pittsurg, Sept. 18.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed here today by the Exposition Park Association which controlled the Pittsburg Federal Baseball League team before it disbanded last fall. According to the petition the indebtedness of the association amounts to $173,443. Included in this amount is $83,316 for players' contracts, some portions of which have been liquidated.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

TRY OIL OF KORIEN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to Elvington's Pharmacy or any good druggist and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

SECOND REGIMENT TO BORDER FRIDAY

First Regiment and Other Units of N. C. Guard to Leave Camp Glenn Thursday.

ORDERS RECEIVED AT LAST

One Regiment to Be Sent Home From Border for Each New Regiment Sent to the Border to Get Experience.

Morehead City, N. C., Sept. 18.—Entrainment orders were received here today from the War Department for the movement of the units of the North Carolina National Guard. Brigade headquarters, troops A and B of cavalry, first field hospital, ambulance company No. 1, and the First infantry will leave Camp Glenn for El Paso Thursday afternoon.

The Second infantry will follow on Friday and the Third on Saturday.

Railroad equipment is arriving and it is said everything will be in readiness for the movement of the troops.

Seventy-three Pullman cars and two kitchen cars ordered for the movement were expected to begin arriving tomorrow or Wednesday. The troops, it was said, were ready to break camp on short notice.

MERELY AN EXCHANGE OF REGIMENTS AT THE BORDER

Washington, Sept. 18.—General Funston was directed by the War Department today to return one National Guard regiment to its home station for each new regiment of the Guard to be sent to the border. The order was issued in line with Secretary Baker's policy of sending all organizations in state mobilization camps to the border before they are mustered out of the Federal service.

The three North Carolina regiments ordered south Saturday, together with those Tennessee, already on the way, will be the first to reach General Funston's command to relieve troops now there.

There are 18,000 Guardsmen still in the state camps. These will move as rapidly as the necessary arrangements can be made.

en into splinters and doors pulled from their hinges.

Although numerous rumors were current here last week that the city was to be attacked, the report was not generally credited. After the engagement, however, it developed that throughout the night before, Villa's men had been concealed about the outskirts of the town, listening to the merriment of the independence day celebration and awaiting the signal to attack.

Four Separate Attacks.

Four separate attacks were launched at the town after its residents had retired for the night. In a drizzling rain just before dawn the outlaws crept from their hiding places and closed in on the Carranza sentries.

One force made for the penitentiary where the release of the prisoners was effected. Another force attempted to seize the recently arrived artillery, a third made for the palace, apparently in an attempt to seize ammunition stores believed to have been concealed. The fourth column attacked a school house used as a barracks.

Prisoners taken in the engagement said that they were led by Villa, Martin Lopez, and the substitute chiefs, Uribe Tarango, Murga and Padillo and that all but Villa participated actively in the fighting. The bandit leader on a hill three miles to the northwest was seen with field glasses by officers of the garrison. The prisoners added that when the attack was made they were being pursued to the southeast by government troops under General Huerta Vargas and General Cuvazos. Neither of these commands participated in the battle, however.

Government cavalry are pursing the fleeing bandits to the northwest into the Santa Clara canyon district but thus far no reports have been received here from General Matias Ramos, commanding.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 18.—A detachment of twenty Villa cavalrymen engaged Carranza infantrymen on the second floor of th estate palace, according to additional details of the attack upon Chihuahua City, received here today by Andreas Garcia, Mexican consul. The bandits rode their horses into the building and up the stone steps to the second floor in pursuit of the government guard, which fell back before them.

De facto marksmen picked off six of the mounted bandits as they rode into one of the rooms, the remainder making their escape.

The consular dispatches added that Jose Inez Salazar, one of the most notorious of Mexican leaders who have operated along the American frontier in Mexico five years of civil strife, was killed in the engagement following his liberation from the penitentiary. Salazar, contrary to earlier reports, is now said to have been killed fighting with the government troops, his former jailers.

Fat Folks May Now Become Slim Quickly

Be Moderate in Your Diet, Breathe Deeply, and Take Tasseo.

Fat persons, particularly those from 10 to 30 pounds above normal weight, will be interested to learn that they may easily reduce their weight without starvation diet or tiresome exercise.

This can best be done by being moderate in your diet, so that you will not overtax your assimilative organs, by getting plenty of fresh air, by breathing deeply and by taking tassco four times a day.

Tassco may be obtained from any druggist in 5-grain tablets, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. They cost little, are absolutely harmless, are pleasant to take and are designed to reduce fatty accumulations in the system, wherever located.

A few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight, the flesh should become firm, the skin smooth, and the general health improved, in fact your footsteps should even become lighter, your work seem easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling take possession of your whole being.

Every person who is 10 or 20 pounds over normal weight should surely give this treatment a trial. You will probably find that it is just what you need.

JOINT COMMISSION DISCUSSES ATTACK

Villa's Latest Outbreak May Tend to Clarify Relations Between Governments.

EASIER TO CATCH HIM ?

Mexican Members Insist Upon Reverting to Border Problem, Rather Than Mexican Internal Affairs. "New Policy."

New London, Conn., Sept. 18.—Villa's attack on Chihuahua City, Mexico, and the repulse of his forces by General Trevino will tend to clarify relations between Mexico and the United States, in the opinion of the Mexican representatives on the joint commission, in session here. The Chihuahua battle figured prominently in the discussion of the commission today.

The Mexican commissioners pointed out that if Villa had been located by the action at Chihuahua the task of running him down would be greatly simplified.

They suggested that if General Pershing's forces now in Mexico is withdrawn, a Mexican force would take its place and thus prevent Villa from raiding to the northward.

Back to Border Problem.

The Mexican members brought to the front today the question of border control and of the American troops in Mexico instead of internal affairs. This was due, it is understood, to an official communication from their government in which they asked why they were discussing the internal affairs of their country with the representatives of another government instead of confining their debates to conditions on the border.

What was characterized as a "new policy of equal rights," was discussed, however. An official statement issued by the commission stated that the policy of the Mexican government toward American and foreign interests was given consideration and that the explanation was made that it was the Carranza idea to put both Mexico and foreign interests on the same footing, allowing preference to neither, and that it was said by the Mexican commissioners that the hope was that such a policy would make Mexican development by foreign capital both possible and profitable.

Secretary Lane did not regard the insistence of the Mexican members on a discussion of border problems as shutting out entirely the discussion of other problems regarded by the American members as fundamentals in the general situation.

Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican commission, explained that the inquiry from his government was no doubt based on the receipt of unofficial and inaccurate reports of the conference.

COAL IN CONNECTICUT

Good Grade of Bituminous Found at South Norwalk.

(South Norwalk, Conn., Correspondence)

Coal is the only topic of conversation in the works of the Norwalk Lock Company today, and the name of Alexander Morton is on the lips of all his shopmates. He has just found that there is coal on his place on Centre street, and if he is anxious to find out how much there is of it, the men in the room where he is a foreman are, if possible, more curious than he.

About six years ago Morton had a well dug in a field back of his house. This well is 11 feet deep, and in the bottom of it the men found a layer of black rock-like substance. As it was near night and he wished to finish that day, he did not stop to examine it, only taking a couple of smell pieces as specimens and covering up the well. These pieces he took to the shop and threw in his desk, doing nothing with them since, except to occasionally show them to some one.

But last week Morton sent one of the pieces to the Hartford Laboratory Company, at Hartford. He has just received their report of the analysis, which shows that the sample was a very good grade of bituminous coal. Since receiving this report he has decided to hire men, open up and enlarge the well and determine the amount of the deposit.

Not far from this well is a piece of low ground, which is said to contain peat, and it is said that an oily substance gathers on the top of any pools of water that remain standing for a few days.

SAYS KELVINIA WAS SUNK BY A TORPEDO

British Ship, Carrying 48 Americans, Atttacked at Night Without Warning.

SO ONE ABOARD DECLARES

G. W. Dillard, of Richmond, Gives Account of Destruction of Vessel Sunk on September 2—All Americans Rescued.

New York, Sept. 18.—A torpedo sank the British ship Kelvinia, carrying 48 Americans, according to G. W. Dillard, of Richmond, Va., one of the Americans who arrived at New York today on the Cunard liner Tuscania.

Dispatches from England left in doubt the question whether the Kelvinia, bound from Newport News, Va., to Glasgow, was torpedoed or sunk by a mine on September 2.

According to Dillard, the Kelvinia was torpedoed at 2 o'clock in the morning, without any warning having been given. The vessel listed immediately and, as there were not enough boats for both the crew and the Americans, who were engaged as hostlers for the cargo of horses, many of the Americans put on life belts and jumped overboard. They were rescued by a trawler after floating about for 14 hours.

Dillard said that at the time the Kelvinia met with the mishap he saw nearby a small light which later seemed to disappear under the waves. This, declares, confirmed his belief that there had been a submarine attack.

INFORMATION BEING SOUGHT BY U. S. EMBASSY AT LONDON

Washington, Sept. 18.—Until information being sought by the American embassy at London is received, the Kelvinia incident, officials said tonight, will not be made the subject of a diplomatic inquiry. Affidavits of survivors taken at New York today will be studied carefully in connection with those being secured by the American agents in England. Should it apparently be established upon American information that the Kelvinia was torpedoed and not sunk by a mine, the department is expected to take up the case with Germany.

Officials expressed no surprise at Berlin reports today that submarines had sunk a number of neutral vessels carrying contraband during the last two weeks. It was pointed out that under the Declaration of London belligerents may sink vessels whose cargoes contain over 50 per cent contraband if it is impossible to take them into port.

was arrested in Tampa, Fla., last February and was taken to New York and held in bail to await trial.

Irwin was arrested in Chicago in June and later the accused men, according to Garbarino, succeeded in getting Mrs. Klipper to go to Mexico to avoid appearing against them. Irwin disappeared and has not since been found. Crocker is under surveillance in New York.

Butler was held today on charges of aiding and abetting in the alleged blackmailing of Mrs. Klipper, the authorities say, because it was plotted in his home in this city. He will be given a hearing before a United States commissioner at a later date.

Mrs. Klipper left here late today, accompanied by government agent from New York and this city, for Chicago, where she will be a witness against some of the alleged blackmailers arrested Saturday night.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The suicide of Joseph Tuma, head of the Tuma Savings bank, a private institution, and the indictment of four private bankers, were the latest developments today in Chicago's private bank failures and a general inquiry into these institutions. Tuma's bank, the state attorney said, was to have been investigated. The banker's counsel, however, said the bank is solvent.

Ad-itorial from the New Bon Marche

The Bon Marche that held one of the greatest sales this city has seen is closed. In its place will rise another store of a far different type.

During the intermission between the closing of the old store and the opening of the new, we will run several policy advertisements which will explain our methods of transacting business as well as general information about the new store.

Read the Ad-itorials each day in either paper and become familiar with a progressive store, which features "Quality."

For twenty-seven years the Bon Marche of Asheville has followed the trend of the times—towards better merchandise. Its success is founded upon the basis of economy. Not the economy of cheapness, because inferior goods sold at a lower price is NOT economy—but the economy that comes from buying GOOD merchandise, which is strictly up-to-date, and which gives satisfaction throughout the period of its usefulness.

The new Bon Marche of Wilmington will start where the other Bon Marche left off. In other words, we are using the experience and knowledge gained through the years and putting in a newer and more modern establishment for this city.

What Marshall Field's is to Chicago, Altman's to New York, and Wanamaker's to Philadelphia, the Bon Marche is to Asheville, and will be to Wilmington.

We hope to open the new store in another week, without the new fixtures, but with the greatest line of merchandise ever brought to the city. Between Thirty-Five and Fifty Thousand Dollars' Worth of New, Seasonable Merchandise will be checked up this week, and displayed at the informal Opening.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

Applause is the spur of noble minds, the end and aim of weak ones. —SELECTED.

Get you some judge-ment, as Senator Brown, of Georgia, used to say.

Most everybody likes an adventure of some sort or other but they generally get it in the neck.

Even the soundest argument is of little avail with people who are without capacity for reasoning.

Many a time the chief difference between good and bad business management is in the size of the operating capital.

One of life's problems is that most people don't know a thing about making flannel battercakes out of corn meal and eggs.

When you object to the way others do, it amounts to nothing unless you tell what you would do. Propositions amount to more than criticisms.

It is said that there is a tremendous crop of apples in Western North Carolina this fall, but what of it if apple jack is no longer recognized in society?

The reason some people can discuss so readily and glibly those things about which they are not informed is that they are not handicapped by the facts in the case.

The best reason why we should vote for the Democrats is that they have made good. The fact is, we are surprised at the numerous ways that they have made good.

Of course, the press has little influence with those all-wise American sovereigns who take pride in the fact that they "never have any time to waste reading newspapers."

The man who meets an emergency by acting without authority generally gets applause. Some men are a law unto themselves when a country has neglected to provide itself with the law it ought to have.

What's the use to imagine you can appeal to a man's reason when he insists on clinging to his prejudice and harboring his own deliberate motive? It is astonishing how many men there are who want to argue that way.

Altogether the Democrats have done well by the people. That is the reason that we should be altogether for the Democrats. We may not like all the various kinds of Democrats but as a whole they have done more for us in three years than the Republicans have done in the last half century.

If you are right, stand by your guns in spite of all the sons of guns. They will shoot at you, as a matter of course, but it shows that you are important enough to be a target for somebody. Nobody ever shoots at nothing. When somebody is aiming at you, rest assured that you are some sort of game.

Many a man gets a loose idea in his head, but even if it is loose enough to rattle around you could not get it out of his nut with a claw-footed crow bar. Recently a fellow heard an unanswerable speech but after hearing all the facts elaborated with the most admirable skill, the fellow said the speaker was a sort of trained liar.

Judge Hughes and the Republican National leaders insist upon injecting sectionalism into their campaign. The Southern white man does not object to beng called a Southerner, and since he has always voted the Democratic ticket in order to insure respectable government, Candidate Hughes and his cohorts may as well expect a solid majority from at least 12 Southern states against any sort of government that he and his followers may promise.

BEWARE OF THE BLIGHT OF REPUBLICANISM

A new generation has arisen since North Carolina was redeemed a second time from the blight of Republicanism in 1898. Mere boys then are citizens now, and it will be largely them to whom North Carolina will look in November to keep her safe from the menace which hangs over her when there is a Republican administration at Washington or the possibility of one at Raleigh.

Possibly this may appear to be harking back for nearly a quarter of a century, but it is well to note that the "Butler crowd" and their Republican allies are on the job with the expressed hope of carrying North Carolina. They are severely criticising the National and State Democratic administrations, and their spell-binders are doing all in their power to mislead the people. They are vigorously stumping the State, denouncing the Democracy and tendering Republicanism to the good graces of the people. The people should beware, for the Republican party has only a record of blight and ruin and humiliation for the people of North Carolina, yet they are prating about the virtue and power there is in Republicanism. It is pertinent, therefore, to remind the people that the Republicans are still blighting a portion of North Carolina. In the 16 counties which have been under Republican rule for the last few years those counties have suffered the consequences that might have been expectd.

The people are being told what the Republicans have done in this or that county, but the record shows a marked difference between Democratic control in 84 counties and Republican control in 16 counties. Take the tax rate levied in the State managed by Republican boards of commissioners in 1914, the last year for which complete figures are available. The tax rate levied by these sixteen counties and by the other eighty-four counties in 1914 is shown on page 282 of the annual report of the State Tax Commission for 1915. This shows that the average tax levy in the sixteen counties managed by Republicans (including the State tax, which is the same in each county) is $1.019 on each hundred dollars' worth of property. So if Mr. Butler's permise is correct, and the governing party is responsible in each case for the increase in taxes for public improvements, the citizens of those sixteen counties should retire their Republican boards of county commissioners and put Democratic boards in charge.

Notwithstanding the lower average tax rate in the Democratic counties, those counties in the State that have made most progress in public imporvements will be found in the Democratic list of counties. Not one in the list of Republican counties has made a conspicuous record for building public roads and other public improvements. Comparisons of Democratic and Republican records in this latitude always show up Republicans in a bad light —to say nothing worse. When it wasn't incompetency it was corruption that featured Republican direction of public affairs and their past performances and the great majority of voters know how risky a thing it would be to ever give them another trial in this State.

A great many voters are accustomed to voting outside of party lines for personal reasons and they are liable to cast a vote for a Republican who may hold the destinies of a county or even the State in his hands. It is taking a risk to vote carelessly in so important a campaign as this. Democrats should keep this in mind, and whatever they do they should not scratch their own ticket, for that will be almost as good as a vote for a Republican. It gives the Republicans a chance to win when the straight Democratic vote is not cast in full. This is a serious matter and our people should bear it in mind.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING—NEVER

The appeal of National Committeeman A. W. McLean and Secretary-Treasurer Hugh MacRae, of the Finance Committee for North Carolina for the Wilson-Marshall Campaign Fund, should meet with prompt response all over North Carolina. Their appeal to the people was published in Sunday's Star, and we revert to it in order to urge immediate attention to this matter by the citizens of North Carolina.

We can never get something for nothing, so we must know that if we want four more years of constructive Democratic government we must be willing to assist in financing the campaign that will assure it. We are convinced of the great benefit that a Democratic administration has been to the American people and we should be so appreciative of it that we should be willing to sustain the campaign for another four years of administration in the interest of the people.

North Carolina must do her part to secure a Democratic victory in November, for she has wonderfully experienced the signal profit and positive blessing secured from a government of the people, for the people, by the people. The Wilson administration has been one of marvelous achievement and the evidences are so manifest that it is needless to refer to them in detail. We have never seen an administration that has done more for the people and the whole country, and it would be a great set-back to government by the people for the people to lose this election. The fight is on to again install privilege at Washington and once ever again it wins a victory over the people it will be once more entrenched against all efforts to overthrow it.

The people must be in earnest if they hope to win and as the campaign depends upon their subscriptions it is hoped they will come forward at once with whatever they can contribute to the Wilson-Marshall campaign fund. Be it little or much, it will help to secure a continuance of the people's fight against the party which stands for private and corporate greed and not for popular interests.

We would have ourselves to reproach if we were to let the Republicans win for their privilege cohorts. They will get plenty of money from those who will recoup by a protective tariff, but the Democracy must depend upon subscriptions by the people. It is the people's cause and it is up to the people to get in the campaign with their personal contributions.

The Star will receive money and checks for the cause and will turn over the same to Mr. Hugh MacRae, the treasurer. The campaign is growing short and now is the time to come to the rescue. Some other day may be too late.

A PACKING HOUSE RALLY

United States Senator Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, will arrive in Wilmington this morning and will address the citizens of our city at the court house this forenoon at 11 o'clock. It is hoped that every able-bodied, active-minded and progressive Wilmingtonian will be there to hear the Senator. When Senator Clapp talks politics it is differen from ours, but if he knows more politics than we do he is welcome to tell it his way. However, the able Minnesota Senator is going to confine his talk to us about something that we can all grees upon.

The meeting at the court house this morning will be the final rally of the campaign for a packing house for Wilmington and Eastern North Carolina. At that meeting it is proposed to organize the Carolina Packing Company, of whose stock more than $50,000 has been subscribed. The proposition is to make it $100,000, and all forward-looking Wilmingtonians ought to go there and subscribe for the balance of the stock in about fifteen or twenty minutes. There is no reason why one dollar's worth of stock should remain untaken.

The distinguished Minnesotan has been making Republican campaign speeches in the great State of North Carolina. That is one of his privileges in this great State of ours, but we understand that at the packing house rally this morning he will talk only upon the livestock industry and the means of promoting it. He is from the great dairying and livestock state of Minnesota and we will be only too glad to hear the distinguished visitor. He will confine himself to the great economic question and for the time being he will not discuss politics.

He wants to give us a helping hand in promoting the livestock industry in North Carolina, and we can hear first-hand from a man who is thoroughly posted on that subject. He has been invited here to talk to us upon the great possibilities of the livestock industry, so every live business man should be at the court house to hear him.

Senator Clapp has kindly dropped out of the campaign in the Third congressional district, where he is assisting the Hon. George E. Butler, the Republican candidate for Congress, but as Wilmington is not in the Third district, the Senator is not here to talk politics. However, were he to desire to make a later speech on politics, Wilmingtonians would gladly hear him. They always return the compliment, but that is a matter that is optional with the distinguished visitor.

Wilmington always welcomes men of Senator Clapp's class and while this is a rock-ribbed Democratic community it is one in which there is the widest range for everybody. This is a free country and Senator Clapp can touch elbows with us and be at liberty to talk as he does in Minnesota. He will be our guest today and we hope he will take a fancy to Wilmington, even if it does see the political light differently from the way he sees it.

Nevertheless, the Senator is going to tell us what the livestock industry has done for the great state of Minnestoa. Democrats have invited him here, but the meeting at the court house this morning is different from politics, and when it comes to economic and industrial matters nobody knows what politics is. It is a broad field in which all of us meet on common ground.

The object of the meeting this morning is to emphasize the advantage and necessity of a packing house market in Wilmington and every live citizen in this city should attend and see to it that the packing house company is organized with a whoop.

THE COUNTRY DEPENDS ON WILMINGTON.

The people of Wilmington's tributary territory are depending upon her to establish a packing house and stock-yard market in order to encourage and sustain the growing livestock industry of at least ten counties in Eastern North Carolina. There is not a county in all of Wilmington tributary territory that has not taken the very keenest interest in the packing house campaign which will culminate today in the organization of the company at a rally at the court house this morning at 11 o'clock.

Every county paper in Eastern North Carolina has discussed the advantages of a packing house market at Wilmington as a means of ensuring the development of a great livestock industry in all this wonderfully adaptable and resourceful region. The proposed packing house receives the persistent encouragement of the press, and the county papers state in every issue that the people of all the counties are looking to Wilmington for it. The Fairmont Messenger, published in a rich section of Robeson county, takes this earnest view of the matter:

"Of course any question requires study and investigation before it can be said that it is practical or best, but we are inclined to believe that the meat packing industry as promoted by the recent meetings here and elsewhere is a good thing for the farmers and therefore a good thing for this part of the country. We are in favor of anything that will get the farmers of this country out of the old 'cotton and tobacco' rut provided that the thing substituted will be as renumerative and can be put into practice. It is a settled fact that unless our farmers do diversify their crops or make some change in the old one and two crop system, they will not get as much money out of their farms as they should and will continue to be a slave to time prices and tenants instead of land owners. We hope that Wilmington will get this plant and we believe she will, and we also hope that the farmers of this section will take enough interest in it to at least try raising live stock on a small scale. If they find that it pays, we have found means whereby we can become rich like our western neighbors. We do not believe in painting anything in too rosy colors because it is new, but we do honestly believe that if the matter were undertaken in the right way and interest enough taken to make it a success, this meat raising and meat packing (which is only a market for the meat) will help our farmers to considerable extent."

The interest in the livestock industry is growing throughout all Eastern North Carolina and it only needs the stimulus of a stockyard market at Wilmington to bring about a new means of farm income in all this versatile region. The Chadbourn Herald gives us a true indication of the new light that the farmers are seeing, for it thus refers to just one fine section of Columbus county:

"Over in Welches Creek some of the best farmers in the county are taking a great deal of interest in raising livestock. They have good pastures and take a great deal of time in looking after their hogs and cattle. Those farmers are the ones found selling meat all the while and they are going to keep this enterprising spirit up in the future with even more zeal. This means that they are going to raise better breeds and finer stock of all kinds on the farms. The lands they pasture are not fit for farming, and by the pasture plan they are making it pay a large dividend each year. More farmers like those in Welches Creek are needed in our county, and the time is now at hand for all farmers to follow their example and make more money on the farm by raising better and more stock. One farmer said Monday that he has the finest prospect of hogs that he has ever had this year and that he will sell pork sure enough next fall and winter and on through next year. This is no idletalk, but plain, cold facts that can be proved by the stuff itself. Those farmers are to be congratulated for their determination to succeed in their work along this line."

The Southport News last week devoted an editorial and a long news article to the packing house proposition as the hope of Brunswick county. The farmers in all this region are going into the livestock industry anyhow, because it pays, but a packing house at Wilmington inevitably will be followed by a marvelous development that will prove to be of immense advantage to Wilmington. This city must depend largely for its future growth upon developing its tributary territory, and in a packing house industry she will have her very largest opportunity to develop the large rural area that means everything to the business of our city.

If we are going to do any thing to make Wilmington a greater city there is nothing so potential for doing it than the rich country that surrounds her. We may develop our commerce but if we do not develop the vast agricultural resources around us we will neglect the greatest opportunity that is within our grasp.

A Republican contemporary says: "Say what you will, Maine is ours." We don't even try to dispute it, because we understand that the Republicans paid their money for it and never stood back on the price. We infer that the slogan was something like "Maine at any price."

RELIEF WORK IN POLAND

(Reprinted by Request.)

A remarkable letter has been received this week from Pastor Lousen, of Wyszgrod, Poland, reporting the progress of the Christian Herald Relief work among the war widows and orphans. The region is one which has been frightfully devastated by the war and conditions are described as they existed on April 16 of this year. Pastor Lousen writes:

"All the Evangelicals have experienced for a shorter or longer period expulsion from homes and lands and other temporal possessions. The expulsion has presented harrowing scenes. No consideration was shown to either the sick or those with child. The order simply read: 'Begone!' Some died in the deepest misery while on the way to Warsaw; others died in Warsaw itself. During the turmoil brothers and sisters became separated from each other, wives from their husbands, parents from their small children, and to this day they have not seen each other again. Think of the sufferings endured by the little ones until their eyes closed in death, either in the road-ditch or in the open fields! On the slightest charge, men were cast into prison as spies.

"Whoever succeeded, through wandering about in the forests or through flight in a boat across the Vistula, in escaping to the Germans, or in gaining deliverance through the unexpectedly quick fall of Warsaw, enjoyed being again in his own homestead; but, alas, in what condition! As a rule he beheld before him nothing but a heap of ruins and ashes. Where fire had not wrought destruction, all that was not nailed and riveted had been pilfered and carried away. One farmer had the rare fortune to find three of his horses, and was permitted to take them away. But cases in which one has the luck of recovering his possessions are exceptional. Here, too, the rule is that 'Gone is gone, lost is lost.' Hence the distress of the returned is great.

"In the village of Misehery, six families, or rather wrecks of families, have returned. Theirs was the good fortune to find several houses of relatives and acquaintances still standing; but no one has a horse, a cow, or any agricultural implements. With empty hands they must begin all over. In Wladislawowo, the village president, Zittlau, lost all his children but one daughter. Several died of typhus; others were carried away. On the other hand, he found and took under his protection two of the children of relatives. In a little house in Cieskowo, I found a woman ninety or one hundred years old, a female relative of about forty, apparently dumb, and a blind man of forty-three years. When I told them that the Germans had sent them a pastor and the Americans' money, the blind man, moved by joy and gratitude, broke forth into a song of praise of many stanzas which he had learned from his mother. Just now I received word of the remnants of four families in direct need. They have lost two harvests, all of their live stock and their implements. They were able to get two horses (one of which died), two cows, and nine chickens.

"Compared with the Evangelicals, the Catholics suffer one disadvantage. Because of the larger numbers of the expelled Evangelicals, the nome of some Evangelical can more readily be secured for those who remain. The Catholics, however, not being expelled because of their being Polish, have great difficulty in finding a domicile when their own homes have been destroyed by fire. Where empty houses of Evangelicals have been found, the Poles have occupied them. But the one disadvantage referred to, arising from the dearth of homes, is offset by certain great advantages enjoyed by the Catholics. Permitted to stay with their belongings, they have been able to keep them together. Besides, the finding of all kinds of live stock and other property has cut a great figure; so that the Catholics have plenty.

"Only a few Jews are found in the country. To these we have, in case of real need, given assistance. In Wyszgrow itself sixty per cent are Jews.

"The need is great, very great. Aid rendered just at this tim esecures for the distressed multitudes some prospects of a harvest, because it will enable them to cultivate a portion of the land. Within a few days my funds will be exhausted. I pray with all urgency that another remittance may come quickly."

In Galicia alone 1,500,000 of the civilian population have perished from starvation. Throughout Poland, 200 towns and 20,000 villages have been destroyed —leveled to the ground; 1,600 churches are in ruins. Losses to agricultural, commercial and industrial interests exceed $11,000,000,000. Altogether 14,000,000 of a population of 34,000,000 Poles are dead of battle, starvation and diseases of the war. The same armies have swept over the country again and again, in alternate triumph and defeat. In many places even the forests, which were the kindly hiding places of thousands of refugees, have been obliterated.

Readers wishing to have a part in easing the awful misery in Poland and throughout the devastated regions of war-maddened Europe will please address the Widows and Orphans Relief Fund, Christian Herald, Bible House, New oYrk City.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The large Jacksonville packing plant is nearing completion and will be finished in time for spring business. The plant will be the making of the live stock business in Duval and adjoining counties.—Bradford County (Fla.) Times.

Wilmington has a new case of infantile paralysis and can't account for it. Maybe some of the folks over there have been buying goods from one of those cut rate mail order houses in the infected districts.—New Bern Sun-Journal.

The Public-Service Commission ought to have Mr. Hughes settle the strike. Mr. Hughes has proved by his speeches that the President was all wrong in averting a railroad strike, and he must have some infallible panacea of his own for dealing with a traction strike. —New York World.

The ever wise (after the event) and critical Mr. Hughes recently remarked, in condemning the efforts made to avert the threatened strike of railway employes, that he did not believe there ever was a labor trouble which could not be settled by fair dealing and arbitration. If he still holds to this view, he is respectfully requested to study the strike situation in New York, where the street railway companies have positively refused to consider an offer to arbitrate the differences between them and their employes. Mr. Hughes was horrified at the concessions made to the railway brotherhoods because of their refusal to consent to arbitration. Will he be equally prompt in pouring censure upon the traction magnates who took the same stand in New York?—Philadelphia Record.

"Mr. Henry Ford states that he made $34,000,000 last year. We had no idea that he would come out so well, but there is no telling what Democratic prosperity will do for a man who goes right on and does business."—Wilmington Star. And Henry's prosperity is of a kind that he achieves for himself. He doesn't ask the government to rob others in his behalf.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

People familiar with conditions at Hamlet a few years ago and who have occasion to contrast present appearances can have a full appreciation of the rapid evolution of the hamlet into a city. The one recent need of the place has been permanent paving to obliterate the sandy condition of street and sidewalk, and Hamlet has just arranged an appropriation of $50,000 for that purpose. New enterprises have been pouring into the town at a great rate lately—two having been announced in last week's issue of The Hamlet Messenger. One of these is a lumber plant with a daily capacity of 25,000 feet, and the other is a sash, door and blind factory. The traveler through Hamlet by night sees great areas of arc-lighted territory, while electric signs blink and flash in all directions. They will soon have to change the name of the place. "Hamlet" no longer fits.—Charlotte Observer.

HEALTH IS WEALTH

by John B. Huber, A.M., M.D.

A clogged bowel and a clear head don't fraternize.

Alcoholism And Skull Fractures.

IN the straight, uncomplicated case of "drunk" there is the whiskey breath, slow and labored pulse, snoring respiration, furred tongue and perhaps vomiting of food and alcohol; the face is bloated and flushed if the debauch has been recent; later, when the effect is passing off, the skin is cold and clammy. The muscular power is more or less lost and all the muscles of the body are involved in the collapse. There may be delirium tremens—talking incoherently, muttering, seeing things (rats and snakes), hearing noises when there are none, violent opposition to restraint.

Anyone who has been drinking may have been hurt. So the body should be inspected for marks of violence which, if present, should make decided presumptive evidence of more or less grave internal injury. Where there has been such injury there are likely to be signs of shock—bodily low temperature, below 98 degrees, small and fluttering pulse, faintness, trembling and a cold skin.

When blood is wiped away from a cut or wound in the scalp, the bony surface of the skull being revealed, and no fresh blood appears, then there is probably no fracture; but if, after such wiping, fresh blood oozes from the surface of the bone, there is surely a fracture, and one may be able to see the blood marked crack. Hemorrhage from the nose, mouth and ears, and into the whites of the eyes, mean a fracture at the base of the skull; so does the appearance in those parts of a thinnish, mucilaginous looking fluid (cerebro-spinal fluid). A swelling behind the ear probably means a fracture of the temporal bone—and a serious business too. Apart from skull fracture there may be injuries of the brain tissue or an apoplexy (the rupture of a blood vessel within the skull). In such cases the victim may lie on one side, be restless, irritable, grinding his teeth when disturbed, the lids tightly closed, and when opened, the pupils pin holed and intolerant to light, the legs drawn up and perhaps twitching convulsively (cerebral irritation). The lips blowing in and out, the cheeks flapping with the breathing; one eyelid and one corner of the mouth dropping whilst the tongue protrudes; unequal pupils and one extremity or one side paralyzed —these things mean an apoplexy.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

J. W. writes: Will you kindly give the diet for Bright's Disease. Is sweet milk good to drink?

Answer: Broths with rice or barley; vegetable or fish soups. Boiled or broiled fresh fish, raw oysters and raw clams. Chicken, game, bacon and ham (sparingly). Hominy, oatmeal, wheaten grits, rice, stale bread, whole wheat bread, toast, milk toast, biscuits, macaroni. Cabbage, spinach, celery, water cresses, lettuce, mushrooms, mashed potatoes, cauliflower, onions. Rice and milk puddings, stewed fruits, raw ripe fruits. Pure water, plenty of milk, buttermilk, weak tea, toast water. Avoid fried fish, pork, corned beef, veal, heavy bread, hashes, stews, batter cakes, lamb, beef, mutton, gravy, peas, beans, pastry, ice cream, cakes, coffee, tobacco, malt or spirituous liquors.

ADULTERATED MILK.

Answer to M. B. U.: Milk may be sophisticated or adulterated by skimming; or by the addition of water; or such coloring matter as caramel, annatto or methyl orange; or by such preservatives as formaldehyde, salicylic acid or salicylates; or arrowroot, flour, glycerine, sugar, chalk or sodium carbonate. The greatest danger in such adulterations is in the transmission of the germs of infectious diseases, specially such as may be present in the dirty water with which the milk is diluted.

PACKING HOUSE WILL BE ORGANIZED TODAY

Senator Clapp, of Minnesota, to Make Principal Address.

Public Meeting to be Held in Court House at 11 o'clock—Company to be Formed—List of Stockholders in the Enterprise

Hon. Moses E. Clapp, United Senator from Minnesota, will make the principal address at the organization meeting for the Wilmington packing house company which will be held at the Court House in this city this morning at 11 o'clock. While the meeting is held primarily for the purpose of organizing the company, the public generally, including the women is invited to attend.

"What Co-Operation and Packing Houses Did for Minnesota" will be the subject of the address to be made by Senator Clapp. He comes from a great stock-raising country and it is believed that his address will be of especial interest to those interested in establishing a packing house in Wilmington as he will be able to telf what has already been accomplished in his State. Although a native of Indiana and later living in Wisconsin, Senator Clapp has been a resident of Minnesota for the last 35 years. He served for three terms as attorney general of Minnesota and in 1901 was elected United States senator to succeed Hon. Cushman K. Davis.

Senator Clapp, who has been a guest of Maj. George E. Butler, at Clinton, for the last ten days, will arrive in the city on the 9:50 train and will be met at the Union station by committees from the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce and by representatives of those interested in the packing house. From the station he will be escorted to the Orton hotel, where an informal reception will be held by business men of the city. He will spend the entire day in the city and will be given an opportunity to see various points of interest while here.

The following have been appointed to act as a committee in behalf of the packing house supporters to meet Senator Clapp at the station: Mayor P. Q. Moore, Hon. John D. Bellamy, J. P. Herring, W. A. McGirt, J. Haughton James, George Honnett, D. L. Gore, W. D. MacMillan, Jr., J. R. Eddy, Geo. O. Gaylord, H. E. Bonitz, J. G. L. Gieschen, George B. Elliott, James H. Cowan, Brooke G. Empie, John R. Hanby, Roger Moore, Milton Calder, L. B. Sasser, J. W. Brooks, J. H. Hinton, John W. Greer, W. W. Love, T. W. Clawson.

The Chamber of Commerce has appointed a reception committee composed of Col. Walker Taylor, Milton Calder, M. J. Corbett, Y. E. Hall, and L. B. Sasser.

As practically one half of the subscribers to the stock for the packing house are from outside of Wilmington, it is expected that there will be many visitors in the city today for the meeting. A cordial invitation is extended everybody interested in the packing house movement to attend the meeting and especially the ladies.

Following the address of Senator Clapp the organization meeting of the stockholders will be held at which a board of directors will be elected.

Funeral services for Mrs. C. H. Hurkamp, who died in Baltimore Saturday afternoon and whose remains were brought to Wilmington for interment, were held yesterday morning at Oakdale cemetery following the arrival of the 9:50 o'clock train from the North. ELECT COMMERCIAL TEACHER

Mr. F. V. Pultz, of Lexington, Va., Will Have Charge of New Department In High School.

Mr. F. V. Pultz, of Lexington, Va., has been elected by the joint school committee as a member of the Wilmington High School faculty to have charge of the new commercial department which will be established upon the opening of the fall term on Monday, October 2nd. Mr. Pultz is an A. B. graduate of Washington and Lee University and after teaching for three years in graded schools completed his commercial training at a Richmond business college. He comes highly recommended and the committee feels that he will be able to render most efficient service.

The commercial department represents a new feature in the local High School and is the first step of what is hoped will eventually mean training for other branches of vocational training. In connection with the teaching of shorthand, bookkeeping, commercial English, commercial law and other kindred subjects, there will also be a two years' course in Spanish which will be taught by Miss Jane D. Wood, who is recognized as one of the most skilled language instructors in the State.

Mr. Pultz and family are expected to arrive in the city within a few days. As soon as he reaches the city, steps will at once be taken for arranging a commercial course that is designed to be second to none in the South.

Mr. Malcolm Little, the principal of the High School, is busy now arranging the curriculum for the ensuing year. There will be three courses offered, one being the strictly literary and classical course, another the commercial course and the third a combination of the two.

The literary course is designed primarily for those desiring to enter the higher institutions of learning for the more strictly cultural courses. The commercial course will embrace instruction in the modern languages and will prepare students for taking any of the technical courses in college but will at the same time provide an opportunity for students to get training which they can put to practical use upon graduation in the event that they cannot continue their studies in some college.

QUAIL REPORTED TO BE PLENTIFUL THIS SEASON

Sportsmen Are Eagerly Awaiting Opening of Season on November 15.

Now that the summer is over and the autumn air is beginning to take on that degree of chill which instils vigor into the limbs of even those possessed of the laziest bones, the man who loves a chase after birds with dog and gun is already beginning to be impatient for the opening of the season on November 15. According to the accounts of farmers and others coming into the city from New Hanover and neighboring counties, quail are going to be very plentiful this year.

Passengers coming into the city from nearby points have observed that numerous coveys are flushed by the trains, evidently from the fact that they were crossing the track, for other coveys in the fields were quite tame, according to accounts, and continue their feeding quite unconcerned. All this tameness will be a thing of the past after the first few days of the open season, when the gunners have been on their trail with dogs a few successive days.

OPENS SECOND WEEK

"Bluebird Company" Presents Some Good Players at Victoria

H. D. Zarrow's "Little Bluebird Company" attracted three good-sized audiences yesterday afternoon and last night in opening the second week of the season at the Victoria. The company presents a cost of good comedy players and pretty chorus girls, who appear in brilliant new costumes, fresh as if they were just out of the "band box." Noticeable is the change of wardrobe accompanying each number.

The vaudeville and musical features of the show are well balanced, giving a good variety of entertainment. While each role was creditably presented, the feature of the show was Jack Fuquay black face, and Harold Gilles, playing the parts of comedians. Mr. Gilles also in a dancing specialty won much applause. Among the several musical numbers, a rendition by the "Bluebird Trio" and the "Yacki Hacki Wicki Wacki Woo" by Mr. Gilles and chorus were perhaps the best received.

INSTITUTE OPENS

Local Methodists Will Attend for Sessions at Burgaw.

Local Methodists in considerable numbers left yesterday morning for Burgaw to attend the Sunday School Institute of Wilmington Methodist district, which opened there yesterday for sessions lasting two days. The chief speakers at the opening session were Mr. W. M. Brabham, of Durham, and Miss M. E. Kennedy, of Nashville, Tenn. They will be assisted in presiding over the various sessions of the institute by State Senator W. B. Cooper, of Wilmington.

Among those who are attending from Wilmington and vicinity are the following: Rev. M. T. Plyler, pastor of Grace church; Rev. T. G. Vickers, pastor of the Southport Methodist church; Mr. H. C. Moffitt, of Whiteville; Misses Sue Boan, Mary Eva Carpenter and Laura Carpenter, of this city; Mrs. Lewis Williams and Miss Fannie Hall, of Winter Park; Mrs. William St. George and Miss Mary Weeks, of Southport.

TRACKS STILL VISIBLE.

Although Covered With Water For 13 Years Are Not Obliterated.

Although it was 13 years ago since the dam for Lake Toxaway, in Western North Carolina, was completed when the water burst through the embankment a few weeks ago, plunging down through the mountain ravines and leaving behind dry land where before there had been one of the most beautiful lakes in the South, the tracks of the mules used in the construction work were still visible and almost as plain as when they were made, according to Dr. Edward Jenner Wood, who has just returned from a pleasant vacation which he spent in the wonderful sapphire country.

Across the lake site, before the dam was constructed, there was a road and as soon as the water was drained off, it was found that this highway was in as good condition and the bed as firm as before it was covered with water 13 years ago.

THINK IT IS TIME TO START WORK ON ROAD

Commissioners Notify Beach Resort Companies of Decision.

Early Completion of Highway in Southern Part of County Desired—Jurors For October Term of Court Drawn.

Since October 1st was agreed upon as the time by which work was to be started on the last link of the Fort Fisher highway extending from Carolina Beach through Wilmington Beach to Fort Fisher Sea Beach, a distance of about three miles, the Board of County Commissioners at a special meeting yesterday morning instructed the clerk to notify the three companies promoting the resorts in that section, which were to construct this stretch of road, that the board felt it is time that steps were being taken towards getting the project under way.

The road committee of the Board of Commissioners decided several weeks ago to reject the proposition for constructing a plank road and so notified the three companies interested. One of the big obstacles in the way is the securing of material with which to construct a hard road bed and it has been this matter that has been largely responsible for the delay.

The three beach companies paid half of the expense of constructing a hard road from the Masonboro look to Carolina Beach, a distance of about seven miles, while the county paid the other half. It was also a part of the contract that the companies were to complete the road to Fort Fisher Sea Beach and they were required to give bond as a guarantee that this would be done.

Chairman W. A. McGirt was authorized to purchase a car load of gravel to be used in making repairs on the Fort Fisher highway. The board also endorsed the action of the chairman in hiring Mr. Grady Cook recently to Mr. R. A. Burnett, superintendent of roads. Cook was sentenced to jail for four months with the privilege of being hired out following his submitting to manslaughter for the accidental killing of a colored convict.

The Board authorized Sheriff Cowan to appoint three appraisers to decide whether or not Mr. W. B. McClellan is entitled to any damages for a road passing across his land at Winter Park and if so how much. Road Superintendent Burnett was instructed to put the stables at the county stockade in good condition.

Those attending the meeting besides the chairman were Commissioners Yopp and MacMillan. Jurors for the October term of Superior court for the trial of civil cases, beginning on Monday, October 23rd, were drawn as follows:

First week—Messrs. J. T. Hart, John H. Hales, R. W. Carney, W. O. Page, Cuthbert Martin, C. T. Miller, S. N. Baker, I. W. Harrelson, B. P. Strickland, Wilbur R. Dosher, W. F. Kerr, Alpha Register, S. S. Shields, W. A. Sue, M. Ed Keathley, W. L. Moore, F. W. Pritchard, Martin O'Brien, E. T. Whitehurst, J. A. Russell, R. T. Clement and B. W. Jacobs.

Second week—Messrs. R. T. Walker A. H. Robbins, T. C. Dickinson, C. A. Ulmer, E. M. Flowers, W. H. Johnson, H. W. Strickland, G. L. Huband, George E. Benson, C. N. Brewer, Edward F Noe, E. F. Lucius, Stephen Jewett, W. R. Taylor, W. F. Penny, W. B. Thompson, J. L. Gorman, O. O. Watts, A. C. Craft, C. H. Moser, E. M. Blackwood, John W. Robinson, Oliver Carter.

E. Bonitz, former president of the local A. & M. Alumni Association.

Final arrangements for the trip will be made at the annual banquet of the local association to be held here early next month, and the indications are that more than 100 former students of A. & M. who live in Wilmington and vicinity will leave here on the afternoon of November 29, arriving in Raleigh early Thanksgiving morning.

RURAL SCHOOLS OPEN

Prof. Catlett Highly Pleased With the Prospects for the Year.

The rural schools of New Hanover county opened yesterday morning with splendid prospects for a most successful year. In several instances the enrollment was larger than in any preceding year. Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of education, was present at the opening of the Seagate and Delgado schools, and was very enthusiastic as to the outlook for the year.

A feature that will be emphasized more than usual this year is the cooperative work of the Mothers' Clubs or Civic Leagues in the various school districts. These organizations have done a world of good in the past, and, according to Professor Catlett, they will be more active than ever during the coming session.

CAPE FEAR ACADEMY OPENS

Indications Point to a Most Successful School Year.

With every indication of a successful school year, the Cape Fear Academy, No. 117 Orange street, opened yesterday morning for its 44th annual session with a good attendance. Prof. Washington Catlett, who is principal of the school, is very much gratified at the enrollment for the opening day, and states that within a very short time the number enrolled with be materially increased by new and former students who have been delayed in registering from one reason or another.

BIG ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

Good Roads Rally at Warsaw Tomorrow Will be Important Event—Large Delegation From Wilmington.

From the reports that are coming in from points along the route of the proposed Wilmington-Goldsboro highway, there will be a large attendance at the Good Roads rally to be held at Warsaw tomorrow. State Senator Rivers D. Johnson, of Warsaw, who recently sent out invitations to all the towns and villages along the route to send delegations is enthusiastic over the cordial response that he has received.

Members of the Wilmington Highway association are working hard and expect to carry a good delegation from this city tomorrow morning, leaving from the City Hall promptly at 7 o'clock Ten or fifteen machines have been promised already and it is expected that there will be at least 5 in the party while a number will go by train.

Mr. Paul B. Bell, chairman of the auto committee of the Wilmington Highway Association, has issued an appeal for all good roads enthusiasts to join in making the rally a great success as follows:

"The Wilmington delegation will leave from the City Hall promptly at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning and all those who have promised machines are urged to be on hand 15 minutes ahead with plenty of gas and oiled up. Members of the Wilmington Highway Association who desire to make this trip should give in their names at once so that provisions can be made for taking them. If there is anyone who has been overlooked by the committee, they are urged to be on hand tomorrow morning with their machines as it is desired to have as many as possible in the party."

The proposed highway will mean a great deal to Wilmington and this entire section and every possible effort is being made to carry the project through. Goldsboro is planning to have a large delegation to meet the big crowd that will go to Warsaw from New Hanover and Pender tomorrow.

MUCH INTEREST LOCALLY IN REPORTED RAISE OF DUES

Members of Royal Arcanum Await With Interest Fuller Details.

The announcement that the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum has decided upon an increase of insurance dues for its members was learned with much interest in Wilmington yesterday as there are more than 300 members of the order in this city. Fuller details of the proposed increase of rates is awaited with interest. According to reports of the meeting that have reached Wilmington, it is the older members who will be hit hardest. The New York American recently carried the following news item:

"Another sweeping increase in the rates of Royal Arcanum members, in some cases more than trebling the present rates, has been decided upon by the supreme council of the order. The new schedule of dues was determined upon at a meeting of the council held September 6 and will go into effect in December. The rate of increase is so considerable, especially in the case of older members, that many will be seriously hit.

"There are about 300,000 members of the order throughout the country. No official notification of the increase has as yet been given to the members of the organization. The last increase in dues was about ten years ago.

"Under the accepted new rate, the premium is fixed according to the age of the individual members and not according to ages coming within a specified group. Those most affected are members in middle life or more advanced in years. A member of about fifty years of age now will have to pay his insurance premium of $14.08 a month. Hitherto he has paid only $4.64 a month. Those over sixty-five years will have to pay $31.92 a month instead of their former rate of $16.08. In both instances the premium is based upon a principal of $3,000 benefit at time of death. The general increase is along the line, for all ages, with the rate decreasing with youth.

"One prominent member of the order, who has been paying $16.00 a month, stated today that he felt it practically impossible to keep up payments under the new scale of $31.92 and that he saw no alternative but to resign. He said:

"'During my long membership I have already paid in more than I will gain as a benefit. I am not a millionaire and certainly cannot afford the new increase.'"

THE RECORDER'S COURT

No Cases of Special Interest—Star Cafe Affair Will Be Heard Today.

While there was no case of special interest in the Recorder's court yesterday morning, there were quite a number of darktown offenders, to face Recorder Empie. The first case called was that of Fannie Carroll, who was charged with disorderly conduct. Unfortunately for Fannie she didn't stop to consider the financial end of the affair, when she raised her little rough house play, so when the Recorder suspended sentence on payment of the costs she was forced to go to the farm for 30 days in default.

Lena McNeil was accused of lambasting another colored person, but she was able to convince the Recorder she was innocent. Frank Andrews, who in a moment of anger had assaulted a female, was not able to duplicate eLna's good luck, however, and so he had fork over the costs. James Hall, up for the same offense, proved he was not that kind of a darky.

Sentence in the case of Sandy Meares, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was suspended during good behavior.

Tom Jordan was fined $25 and costs for hitting Gary Smith in the head with a brick Saturday afternoon. Gary, who was also charged with an affray, was acquitted. Beulah Pickett and Wash McNeil were let off with the costs for their affray.

According to advices from the James Walker Memorial Hospital, yesterday afternoon, Nick Jordan, a young Greek, who was injured in the affray at the Star Cafe a few days ago, will be discharged this morning. In this event Messrs. W. D. Scott and W. D. Murphy, who are charged with an assault in connection with this affair, will be given a hearing this morning.

The presentation was made by Past High Priest E. G. Penney, who paid a high tribute to Dr. Thames for his faithful and loyal service for the chapter during the time that he has been in the city. Dr. Thames responded feelingly, declaring that it had indeed been a pleasure for him to be associated with the chapter and that he would keep the jewel as a very precious treasure.

LOCAL HIGHWAYS PRAISED

Maj. Waldron Who Arrived Here Yesterday by Automobile From Washington Tells of Trip South.

While there is plenty of room for improvement to Virginia and North Carolina highways from Washington, D. C., to Wilmington, according to Maj. A. E. Waldron, who arrived here late yesterday afternoon by automobile from the former city, the roads of New Hanover county will compare most favorably with the best roads in Maryland and other sections around the National Capital, which are famous for their fine boulevards.

Maj. Waldron, who will assume charge of the Wilmington Engineering District within the next three or four days, succeeding Capt. C. S. Ridley, who goes to the staff school at Fort Leavenworth, was accompanied on the automobile trip by his wife and daughter, Miss Margaret Waldron. For some time past he has been in charge of the Engineers' Depot at Washington Barracks. His duties there were wholly of a military nature as the officer in charge at the Washington Barracks keeps on hand and forwards supplies to the engineer troops throughout the country, including those on the Mexican border. As officer in charge of the Wilmington district his duties will be largely of a civil character, the work consisting mainly of the supervision of the river and harbor improvements in Eastern Carolina, the most important of which are the Harbor of Refuge at Cape Lookout and the locks on the Cape Fear river.

Leaving Washington Saturday morning, Major Waldron and family arrived in Wilmington, after a very pleasant trip, yesterday afternoon. Their only mishap en route happened yesterday when, owing to the tall grass and weeds along the road about five miles beyond Willard, the machine was inadvertently ditched when Major Waldron tried to avoid the sand in the roadbed. As the ditch was several feet deep, it was some time before it could be extricated by means of a plank and other implements.

In describing his trip South, Major Waldron stated that the roads for a distance of 30 miles out of Washington are excellent, and with the exception of one additional stretch of 29 miles are fine all the way to Fredericksburg, Va. From the last named place to Goldsboro he found the roads quite rough. However, when he reached the New Hanover county line there was a marked change, he said, and the roads of this county compare most favorably with the roads in Maryland and around Washington, where the boulevards are famous for their excellence.

For the present Major Waldron and family are guests at The Orton, and it is probable they will remain there some time, as for the next few days Major Waldron's time will be largely taken up with familiarizing himself with the duties of his position here. He held a conference yesterday with Captain Ridley, and will have several others before that officer leaves, probably next Friday.

CLINTON HEARS THREE POLITICAL SPEECHES

Senator Clapp, Hallet S. Ward and John J. Parker Heard.

Field Day for Political Oratory—Sort of Joint Debate, With Two Republicans to One Democrat Debating.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Clinton, N. C., Sept. 18.—Today was a field day for political speech making in Clinton. The Democrats and Republicans both got a turn at the ear of the people, and they used it to a very good advantage. Senator Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, discussed the National issues for the Republicans; J. J. Parker, Republican candidate for attorney general, made his attack on State issues, and Hon. Hallet S. Ward, of Washington, N. C., spoke for the Democrats.

Superior court, which convened here today, took a recess in order that the political airing might take place. There were two Republican to one Democratic speaker, but the Democrats were satisfied, abundantly satisfied, with the manner in which their side of the question was handled.

Senator Clapp is a big statesman and a good speaker. John J. Parker is a rising young lawyer and an ambitious campaigner, but the manner in which Hallett Ward attended to the argument of these gentlemen brought a smile to the local Democratic face that will be a long time coming off.

Senator Clapp, who led off with the speaking, admitted at the outset that he had rather be making a good roads speech or speaking in advocacy of a packing plant. Fact is, his heart didn't appear to be in the matter much anyhow, and it was very faint condemnation that he heaped upon Woodrow Wilson and his compatriots.

The burden of Senator Clapp's speech seemed to be in defense of and a glorification of the ancient record of ex-Senator Marion Butler, who left the Senate soon after Minnesota sent Mr. Clapp there. He attributed the rural free delivery to Senator Butler, and alleged that he was parent of much other desirable legislation that Congress had passed within the past few years. His speech sounded as if he had been carefully coached, and his audience wondered whether he was sent out as an apologist.

Mr. Ward, who years ago earned the nickname "Hot Stuff Ward," followed the Minnesota senator. Not in any way awed by the superior forces of the enemy nor in the least embarrassed by having to make answer to the argument of his distinguished opponent, Mr. Ward made a speech that warmed the innermost recesses of Democratic hearts and compelled admiration from his opponents.

Senator Clapp, who must find himself hopelessly at odds in his alleliances, siding with that element of his party headed by Root at times and at other times following that element now headed by Mr. Roosevelt, could not help but lay himself open to the finest sort of attack. The two major issues which he discussed, canal tolls and preparedness, found his position not in agreement with the majority of his party, and Mr. Ward stepped into the breach, "Who and where is the Republican party?" Mr. Ward asked. There was no bitterness manifested, no waving of the red shirt, but as long as the people who heard these speeches live they will retain a very keen sense of appreciation for the ability that was displayed. TEACHING THE FARMERS.

Splendid Work Being Done by U. S. States and Colleges.

(From the Washington Post.)

When the theories of intensive farming, rotation of crops, modern dairy methods and poultry husbandry were first preached in the United States there was considerable scoffing among the farmers. The old way was good enough for the average farmer. He thought there was too much theorizing among the college chaps. In recent years, however, the American farmers have been brought to a realization that most European countries are far ahead of this country in relative productivity.

The United States paid little attention to intensive farming, chiefly because there was so much land available that conservation did not seem to be necessary. The Department of Agriculture, however, has made such headway in educating the farmers that now the vast majority of them are seeking to learn more about modern agricultural methods.

Evidence of the increased interest of farmers in modern methods has been given at the farmers' meeting at Delaware College, near Newark, where 3,000 men, with their families, left the fields at a busy season and rode to the meeting to learn all they could from the demonstrations and conferences.

Divided into groups of 20 and 30, the men who follow the plow were piloted over the fields and through the orchards by members of the faculty of the agricultural school, who explained the various methods of crop rotation and care of orchards and farming in its various phases. The farmers asked many questions and learned from the theorists much that was new and helpful to them.

The population of the United States has not out-distanced the rate of agricultural production, but considering the fact that the percentage of farmers has not kept pace with the growth of population, it is necessary that some method should be adopted to stimulate interest in farming and increase the average yield of every acre of ground under cultivation. The Department of Agriculture and the State organizations and colleges are doing splendid work, which should be recognized and encouraged.

W. L. I. TO HOLD DRILL

Local Guardsmen Will Compete for Trophy—"Pay" Night.

According to an announcement made yesterday by Capt. James B. Lynch, of the Wilmington Light Infantry, the semi-annual competitive drill for the handsome medal awarded for this event will be held Tuesday night. The drill will be held on Market street between Second and Front streets, where it can be seen by the public.

The medal is now in the possession of Corp. R. B. Lewis. Immediately following the drill, the regular monthly inspection will take place. Another interesting event to the members of the company will be the signing of the pay roll.

U. S. MUST PLAN TO RAISE MORE WHEAT

The settlement of the railroad strike prevented what would have probably been a serious shortage in next year's wheat crop, with resulting higher prices for flour and bread, according to experts who have compiled statistics showing what would have been the results upon the national food supply if the fall shipments of fertilizers for the winter wheat crop had not been possible on account of the strike.

Already America faces a wheat shortage of nearly half a billion bushels over last year's production, which has caused prices to soar and which will probably mean higher prices than ever for wheat and flour before next year's crop is harvested. Without fertilizers, next year's yields would be decreased from eight to ten bushels per acre on approximately ten million acres. The estimate is based upon the findings of the Indiana Experiment Station and other experiments throughout the country, where differences of eight bushels and over per acre have been found in favor of wheat that has been given an average application of fertilizer.

Organizations of farmers, granges, agricultural papers and other agencies concerned with the prosperity of the farmers were preparing to appeal to the railroad presidents, the Interstate Commerce Commission and President Wilson, to ask that fertilizers be considered as preferred freight and be moved along with perishable food products. With the adjustment of the situation, such appeals were unnecessary and fertilizer shipments are now going forward in plenty of time for use this fall on the winter wheat crop.

In Germany, fertilizers are given preference over all other kinds of freight with the exception of food products and war munitions for the soldiers at the front. It is because of Germany's attitude toward the production of large yields and to even greater attention to the use of fertilizers than ever, since the beginning of the war, that the Teutons have been able to withstand the rigorous blockade and demonstrate that their country has been able to produce enough food products to make them self-supporting. As much fertilizer is used in Germany as in the entire United States, with over seven times as much land under cultivation.

Census reports issued by the Department of Commerce show that the United States in 1914 used 49.8 per cent more fertilizers than in 1909. Of this amount, more than half was complete fertilizers. The increase in the use of fertilizers to the extent of almost fifty per cent in five years indicates how American farmers are setting about to increase their yields and profit from the high prices being paid for farm products.

STOPPING ANTI-WAR TALK.

Germany Takes Drastic Measures Against Peace Advocates.

(From the New York Times.)

Scattered items in recent issues of the German Socialist press confirm cable dispatches reaching this country from Swiss and Dutch cities which tell of repeated efforts of the German government to suppress the anti-war agitation being carried on by the advanced section of the German political labor movement.

Because the policy of the young people's magazine, Freie Jugend, published in Switzerland, with a large circulation among German young people's organizations, is in accord with the peace propaganda of the Reichstag minority of the Socialist party, that publication has just been barred by the German postal authorities. On the other hand, the circulation of Arbeiterjugent, the organ of the German Socialist youth, has not been interfered with because it supports the "holding out" policy of the so-called social-patriotic Socialists, represented by Deputies Schiedemann, Sudekum, Legien and others.

The neglect of men who were scheduled to talk at a public Socialist meeting in Berlin on the subject "On the Threshold of the Third Year of the War," to submit copies of their speeches to the military commander in the Marken district for censorship caused the meeting to be forbidden.

Deputy Cohn was to address a meeting in Nordhausen, in Prussian Saxony, on "The Anniversary of the Declaration of War", but the meeting was prohibited at the last moment without any reason being given.

After all arrangements had been made for a public meeting in the Crystal Palace in Leipzig, at which Deputy Geyer was to speak on "Food Supplies and Peace," the general commanding in the district notified the promoters that the meeting could not be held in August and, consequently, must be "postponed."

In Stuttgart several more Socialists and other peace advocates have received short jail sentences for distributing anti-war literature and carrying on a peace propaganda.

THEATRICAL

Perhaps the outstanding feature of yesterday's big show at the Victoria was the blackface work of Mr. Jack Fuquay, a better comedian not having been seen at the Victoria in many months. But it is hardly fair even to single out this one act, so evenly balanced was every one of the specialties of the Little Bluebird Company, which opened for the week yesterday presenting yesterday and today, "The Bluebird Inn," a one-act comedy with many extra features that pleased large crowds.

The night crowd was especially large, packing to capacity almost, the large theatre. And the evident enjoyment of the large crowd was manifested by the almost thunderous applause which greeted the different numbers, responding to many encores having carried the first evening performance for twenty minutes over the allotted time for the performance.

Harold Gilles, Douglas Fleming, Dolly Parker, Beulah Fuquay—these are some of the bright particular stars who delighted the masses last night. And in the combinations, Harold Gilles and quartette put a big hit over with "Yacki Hacki Wicki Wacki Woo" and others on encores. "I Was Never Nearer Heaven in My Life" was one of the most beautiful melodies of the show, led by Miss Dolly Parker with sextette.

It's a great show that you don't want to miss, and will be presented for the last times today and tonight.

Great Bill at Grand.

It's indeed a great bill at the Grand today for the big Tuesday crowds. The bill is headed by a great surprise for the Grand will present to its patrons as an extra feature today the latest issue of Pathe News, the film newspaper. Among the big things in this week's issue is the Atlantic squadron steaming into Hampton Roads for supply of coal for winter cruise, the close-ups of the mighty dreadnaught New York coaling from the collier Jupiter. A big part is taken with the President's official notification of his nomination at Shadow Lawn, N. J., some two hundred feet being taken up with many scenes incident to the exercises. Colonel Roosevelt is shown in start of his campaign for Hughes, and a thriller is the showing of a car going across Niagara whirlpools by aero-cable, giving many views of the thrilling stunt. A new aerial torpedo just invented is shown at Stockholm, Sweden, and the tearing of a hole in the ground by a torpedo being dropped. Revolutionary clouds are gathering in Shanghai, China, according to some stirring scenes.

The current chapter of that great Pathe serial "Stingaree" is also on in two great reels, starring True Boardman and Marin Sais, and there is also the newest episode of "The Hazards of Helen" with some of the greatest stunts you have yet seen the dare-devil, Helen Gibson, pull off.

Universal Serial at Bijou.

Two great days right in succession at the Bijou. Yesterday "Liberty," the great new Universal serial, packed in the happiest crowd you ever saw last night, and everyone was simply carried away with it. Today the current chapter of that other great Universal serial wonderful, "Peg O' the Ring," is on as a headliner and will pack the crowds from early until late. There's no doubt about it Universal is right there ahead of all others when it comes to putting out the winning serial combinations.

Never in the history of motion pictures have two great stars been more popular in serials than Grace Cunard and Francis Ford, who lead the van in the great "Peg" serial. And in the chapter to be presented today there is something doing for every minute it is on the screen, from beginning to end. You don't want to miss this great chapter, even if you have missed some that have gone before, for it's absolutely the greatest yet.

And there's another great all-star attraction today. That dainty little film beauty, Ella Hall, is back again after a long stay in big features, and today presents a great two-reel Universal special feature, "The Heart of a Show Girl," that for pathos and human heart interest has everything of the month backed off the boards. Ella plays the part of a child, one of the kind in which she has scored so many hits, and she is supported by Franklyn Farnum and Helen Wright in this great two-reel feature.

BATTLE OF HEARTS
WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION
TODAY'S GREAT FEATURE AT THE ROYAL

day long yesterday. Surprise has been expressed on every side at the really first class picture produced with purely local amateur talent and many compliments for the different members of the cast came from every direction.

The big feature for today is a rousing six reel William Fox production, "Battle of Hearts," starring that strong and virile dramatic star, William Farnum, in the leading role.

"Battle of Hearts," starring the talented actor, William Farnum, is the first filmed story of sea life presented by William Fox, the maker of vital feature films. In this picture, just released, Mr. Farnum acts the part of a noble sailor character, brave and capable of great self-sacrifice. He is in love with a sea captain's daughter, a part taken by Elda Furry, his new leading woman, but through the plots of the villain of the story the girl does not realize the capacity of his love until the end of the play.

Incidental to the story, which was enacted on Catalina Island, off the California coast, there is a shipwreck in which both Mr. Farnum and Miss Furry figure. The excitement as produced on those viewing the picture is no less than that of the actors, who were in real personal danger during the making of this part. The heroine's other lover becomes a smuggler of the coast, and the plot includes some thrilling adventures of the male star with the sea-coast outlaws on the rocky cliffs of Catalina.

TRINITY PARK OVERFLOWING

All Dormitory Space Filled and More Needed—New Medal Offered.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Trinity College, Durham, Sept. 18.—With all available dormitory space filled, Trinity Park School has entered upon its 18th session. Immediate arrangements were begun at the opening to provide extra dormitory facilities for the overflowing throng of old and new students.

Headmaster F. S. Aldridge, who succeeds Prof. W. W. Peele, of the Biblical department of the college, as principal of the school, has expressed himself as being very much gratified with the outlook for the ensuing year. He is particularly pleased with the showing made by the summer school during the past summer. This was the fourth year that the summer school has been offered at the park school, and the indications are that it will be a permanent institution.

It was recently announced that W. P. Henry, a prominent tobacconist of Durham, has offered a medal to the park school to be awarded to the senior who is adjudged the most efficient man in his class generally. The medal is to be given in honor of Dr. E. A. Yates, formerly presiding elder of the Durham district.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which, if not eliminated, every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

FOUR CAPITAL CASES

Disposed of by Anson Court in Record Making Term Last Week.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Sept. 18.—At 11 o'clock Saturday night the September term of Anson county Superior court for the trial of criminal cases was adjourned sine die. It is the consensus of opinion that this has been a record-making term of court for this section. Besides disposing of a large number of minor offenses, four capital crimes were disposed of.

The four Smith negroes, accused of murdering Gullen Smith, submitted to murder in the second degree and were given sentences of six years, three years, six months and three months on the roads. Mood Turner was convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of John T. Henry and sentenced to five years on the roads. An appeal was taken. The negro woman accused of killing another negress, submitted to manslaughter and was sent to the State penitentiary for two years. Will Crowder, indicted for the killing of Emiline Covington, was tried for murder in the first degree and acquitted.

CAMERON MORRISON TO SPEAK

Feature of Democratic Rally at New Bern Thursday Night

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New Bern, N. C., Sept. 18.—New Bern is this week to witness the second great Democratic rally of the season. A few nights ago several hundred members of the party gathered at the court house, listened to Senator F. M. Simmons make an excellent address and formed a Wilson-Bickett Club. The occasion this week is the visit on Thursday night of Hon. Cameron Morrison, who is to address the Democratic voters of New Bern and the surrounding section.

Mr. Morrison has many friends in New Bern and the surrounding section. He is known to be an able and brilliant speaker, a true Democrat and an upholder of President Wilson and there is not a member of the party anywhere in this section who will miss the address if there is any possible way for him to be on hand. Senator Simmons will be in the city and he, also, will probably make a short talk.

SHARP ADVANCE IN COTTON

Closing Prices in New York Very Steady, From 33 to 36 Points Net Higher.

New York, Sept. 18.—There was a very sharp and excited advance in the cotton market here today with December selling up to 15.59 or 38 points above Saturday close and 91 points above the low level of a week ago. Closing prices were very steady with in 2 or 3 points of the best and from 33 to 36 points net higher.

The market was somewhat irregular during the early trading. After opening at an advance of 5 to 9 points, active months here sold 12 to 18 points net higher. This advance met considerable cotton and there were reactions of 8 or 9 points from the best during the middle of the morning. The offerings were well taken around 15.68 for January, however, while the selling seemed to become less active on the decline and the market firmed up during th afternoon. October sold up to 15.75 and January to 15.98, while March sold at 16.15 or about 37 to 39 points net higher. The advance was checked by realizing in the late trading, but demand continued active and reactions were unimportant.

One of the private crop reports made the condition 61 against 64.7 at the end of August, while another made it 59.4 and a New Orleans authority reported sharp deterioration for the first half of the month.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Market Firms up After Quiet Period and Makes Big Advance.

New Orleans, Sept. 18.—After a quiet market in the early part of the session today, cotton firmed up after the noon hour on a wave of buying which was apparently stimulated by expectations of a very low September condition report from the government and trading months rose to a level 31 to 34 points over last week's final quotations. The rise was well maintained to the close, which was officially firm and last prices were at a net gain of 31 to 33 points.

The opening was at the advance in response to good cables and extremely unfavorable crop conditions contained in the monthly report of a local newspaper. The market was rather dull up to the middle of the day, only developing activity late in the session. In the early trading prices rose 12 to 14 points. At noon the market was 9 to 13 points up.

Contributing to the firmness was the cut in freight rates on cotton to European ports. This the trade considered would stimulate exports and result in a better inquiry for spots in the interior. Bullish dry goods report from the distributing center of this country served to further increase bullish sentiment.

Closing bid: October 15.43; December 15.58; January 15.72; March 15.93; May 16.14.

Spot cotton steady and unchanged, sales on the spot 760 bales; to arrive 1,935 bales; middling 15.13.

Caused by Decreasing Stocks at Liverpool and Big Primary Markets in America.

Chicago, September 18. — Decreasing stocks in Liverpool and at the big primary markets on this side of the Atlantic tended today to lift the price of wheat. The market closed strong, 1¾ to 1⅞c. net higher, with December at 1.48⅛ to 1.48⅝, and May at 1.49½.

Corn finished ⅝ to 1 up, and oats with a gain of a shade to ¼ to ⅜c. In provisions the outcome varied from 55c. decline to a rise of 12½c. Close:

STOCK TRADING YET HEAVY

Exceeds a Million Shares for the 10th Successive Full Session. U. S. Steel Leads.

New York, Sept. 18.—Although trading in today's stock market again exceeded a million shares for the tenth successive full session, with United States Steel leading the movement at the new record of 108 5-8, there were many indications of substantial realising sales and a renewal of bearish activity.

Leading industrials, coppers and equipments followed the rise of 1 to 2 points in rails during the forenoon with greater gains in Crucible Steel, General Electric, Peoples Gas and less prominent specialties.

Miscellaneous issues, shipping shares and motors were subject to considerable backing and filling, losing ground in the final hour, at which times rails also felt the force of selling pressure. These reversals were partly neutralized by a sudden spurt in oils, Texas company scoring an extreme gain of 14 1-2 points at 217 1-2, while Mexican Petroleum rose almost three points.

Union Pacific, Reading and the metals closed at variable net losses, even steel succumbing to the general trend. Total sales amounted to 1,185,000 shares, of which steel contributed no less than 15 per cent. Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value $4,150,000. United States bonds unchanged on call, but coupon 2s advanced 5-8 per cent on an actual sale.

...IGN OF TERROR IN ...S. LUIS POTOSI STATE

...ndits Very Active Over Extended Area, Says Report

Under Leadership of Cedillo Brothers, Who Call Themselves Legalistas. Several Engagements Reported.

Laredo, Texas, Sept. 18.—Trustworthy advices brought to Laredo tonight indicate a reign of terror exists in the state of San Luis Potosi, Mexico, extending from the Nuevo Leon state line to Queretaro, owing to the activities of bandits said to be under the leadership of the Cedillo brothers, who call themselves Legatistas. Men formerly identified with General Carrero Torres are also said to be in the bands.

One passenger from San Luis Potosi reported tonight that General Davila, governor of San Luis Potosi, was called to Mexico City to fill a cabinet portfolio last week, but that while en route, every officer of his staff was killed. Davila was dressed in civilian clothes, took to the brush and succeeded in reaching San Luis Potosi. Engagements occurred last Friday and Saturday at Doctor Arroyo, in Nuevo Leon, and Norriega, San Luis Potosi, in which the Carranza troops were reported to have suffered heavy losses.

London, Sept. 18.—Lieutenant Raymond Asquith, son of Premier Asquith, was killed in action on September 15, it was announced today.

Raymond Asquith, who was in his 38th year, was a graduate of Oxford, president of the Oxford Union and prominent as a member of the bar, to which he was admitted in 1904. He acted as a junior counsel for Great Britain in the North Atlantic Fisheries arbitration at The Hague, in 1907. He was made a second lieutent in a county of London regiment in 1914, and lieutenant of the Grenadier Gaurds in 1915.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Secretary Daniels and members of the navy's consulting board will leave here tomorrow to witness the target practice maneuvers of the Atlantic fleet on the Southern Drill Grounds. Prior to their departure, the members of the board will meet to organize under the new law giving it a legalized status and to consider the question of a site for a $1,500,000 naval laboratory.

TRACTORS USED IN WAR MADE IN U. S. A.

armored motorcars called "tanks" was freely confessed by prisoners I talked with today.

"There was no standing against that sort of thing," said one German officer. "Of course we surrendered, those of us who were alive. Our machine guns were turned loose on it. But the bullets were only blue sparks on the armor. We thought the British slow and stupid, despite their courage and stubbornness, and they gave us a surprise like this."

A column of German prisoners passing a "tank" rejoicing in the nickname of "creme de menthe," which had returned from battle and was resting from its labors, spread out their hands and shook their heads and looked at it, exclaiming in a chorus: "Mein Gott im Himmel! It is under control? It won't break out and begin firing again? Will we ever forget our first sight of th ething as it came at us out of the morning mist? It wasn't war, using a piece of machinery like that; it is butchery."

To this a British officer replied: "No, it is quite peaceable and tame now. It has just been fed. As for it not being war, it is quite in keeping with The Hague convention, which your gas attack at Ypres was not."

German Losses Immense.

The Germans themselves were massing at many points, it appears, with a view of making attacks to recover some high ground they lost. The British anticipated the German attack with their own onslaughts assisted by their new "hell machines," whose secret they had been keeping up their sleeves for such an occasion as this.

The accounts of both the wounded British soldiers and the prisoners taken from all parts of the line agree that the German losses were immense. They had massed large numbers of men in their front trenches. These were not only caught by the surprise of the sudden blast of the early morning concert of the British guns preceding the charge of the British infantry, but were in new trenches which they had built as best they could under the continued shell fire, and as they had no dugouts and could find no shelter they were subjected to the murderous enfilade from the "tank" cars.

Despite the German discipline and the bravery and racial hate which the Germans put into their fights against the British, at many points mob confusion prevailed among those in the front lines. Some attempted to surrender, though surrender seemed impossible against these walking forts. Others fired desperately and hopelessly before being mowed down and others were paralyzed by the apparition which had no precedent in warfare. Trenches were filled with German dead, and those in flight fell like grain before a reaper where the tank cars could direct sprays of lead in their path.

TRYING TO FORCE LOAN FROM BANKS IN BELGIUM

Charge Against Germany Made in Protest to Washington.

Legation Asserts M. Carlier, Director of National Bank, Has Been Imprisoned Because of His Opposition to Loan.

Washington, September 18. — A protest alleging that German military authorities are attempting to force a loan of 1,000,000,000 francs ($200,000,000) from the Belgian banks, and that M. Carlier, director of the National Bank of Belgium, has been imprisoned because of his refusal to consent to the proposal, was filed with the State Department today by the Belgian legation.

In a statement the legation declared its advices "confirm the information concerning the seizure by the Germans of private capital in Belgian banks and show at the same time the utter contempt in which the German government holds the international laws and the inviolability of private property."

Recent press reports from Belgium contained references to such a loan and to the imprisonment of M. Carlier. The Overseas News Agency, a semi-official Berlin concern, however, denied in a statement that there had been any seizure, and declared the bank had agered to the loan. The arrest of M. Carlier, the agency declared, was "not connected with this transaction."

State Department officials have not indicated that they considered the controversy one in which the United States should intervene.

PAPER MANUFACTURERS READY TO MEET NEWSPAPER MEN

To Discuss Measures of Relief for the Smaller Publishers.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The executive committee of the Newsprint Manufacturers' Association notified the Federal Trade Commission today that it was ready to meet a committee of newspaper publishers to discuss means of regulating the distribution of white paper so that small publishers may suffer no injustice anw may be relieved of the prospects of suspending publication, which many of them are said to face because of the paper shortage.

A suggestion by the Trade Commission that the manufacturing machines now engaged on other grades of paper be transferred temporaril yto newsprint was rejected by the executive committee as impracticable, since the profit on the other grades is so much greater than is being obtained no newsprint paper that it would be useless to ask the mills to sacrifice those profits to make a grade in which most of them are not particularly interested at this time.

TOO "FRESH" TRAVELLING MEN FACE COURT IN RALEIGH

To Be Tried Today on Charge of Insulting Ladies on Street.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 18.—With bonds increased to $500 each, T. L. Wood and A. D. Morris, traveling men, will be tried tomorrow morning in the city court on the charge of making insulting advances to Mrs. F. L. Koonce and her sister, Miss Mamie Denton, near Bland Hotel, Sunday, instead of having the trial this afternoon as at first scheduled. Both men insist that it is a case of mistaken identity.

It is charged that one of the men accosted the ladies with "How do you do?" an dafter one of the ladies told him "You have made a mistake," the other overtook them, took Miss Denton by the arm and insisted, "Oh, yes, you do know him, let's take a ride in an automobile." Affrays between the accused men and George White, who claims to have seen them approach the ladies, and H. H. Massey, who also resented the alleged conduct of the men, are also to be aired in the court.

until a few weeks ago, and has based his appeal for support largely upon his advocacy of military preparedness.

Roosevelt Urges Bacon.

An incident of the day was the publication of a letter from Theodore Roosevelt, urging Mr. Bacon's nomination on the preparedness issue. Many of the county and district leaders of the state have lent their support to Mr. Calder, who began his campaign nearly two years ago.

The Democrats also have a contest on their hands for the senatorial nomination, but managers of the campaign of William F. McCombs, former chairman of the Democratic National committee, who was designated for the office at the unofficial state convention at Saratoga, declare they do not take seriously the aspirations of Thomas F. Conway, of Plattsburg, a former lieutenant governor.

The only opposition to Governor Whitman's nomination within his own party come from State Senator William S. M. Bennet.

A feature of the primaries will be the more general use of school houses as polling places, especially in the various boroughs of New York city.

WHAT IS ITCH DIRT?

It is the old Anglo-Saxon name for Dandruff, and it's a good one. If you have dandruff you have itch dirt and the little microbes that are part and parcel of dandruff are working persistently night and day, and sooner or later will reach the very life of your hair and destroy its vitality.

Then you'll be bald—Bald to stay—for not even the wonderful rejuvenating properties of Parisian Sage can grow hair after the hair bulb or root is dead.
